

U.N. Gets West's Charge Against Soviet Union

Robert Mitchum Pleads Innocent To Drug Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Robert Mitchum and two of his co-defendants pleaded innocent today to narcotics charges after his attorney failed in an attempt to have the indictment dismissed on a legal technicality.

Jerry Giesler, noted criminal lawyer representing Mitchum, asked dismissal with the argument that a portion of the indictment is not in the English language and is therefore unconstitutional.

He referred to the section which charged the defendants with possession and conspiracy to possess "flowering tops and leaves of Indian hemp (cannabis sativa)."

Mitchum, 31; actress Lila Leeds, 20; dancer Vicki Evans, 25, and Robin Ford, 31, real estate man, are charged with possessing a drug weed popularly known as marijuana.

The four were arrested shortly after midnight last Sept. 1, at a secluded cottage in Laurel Canyon, north of Hollywood.

Ford and the blonde Miss Leeds also pleaded innocent. Trial for the three was set for Nov. 22.

Miss Evans did not enter a plea, as her attorney asked for time to argue for dismissal on grounds that evidence against her is insufficient. This will be heard Oct. 7.

In arguing for the dismissal as to Mitchum, Giesler said the charges might as well be "in the Japanese or Chinese language, or even hieroglyphics."

"It was the intention of the framers of the constitution that persons charged know the meaning and significance of indictments," said Giesler.

"This indictment refers to flowering tops of hemp. I always thought hemp was used to make rope."

This brought a laugh from the packed courtroom and the judge. "I can't pronounce these words," Giesler said, after he stumbled over "cannabis sativa," "and I don't know what they mean."

However, Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose overruled the demurrer and ordered the defendants to plead. All four are at liberty on $1,000 bail each.

Soviet Fighters Buzz U.S. Planes On Airlift Run

BERLIN (AP)—Nine Soviet fighter planes dangerously buzzed two U.S. supply planes in a Soviet zone air corridor today, United States authorities announced.

The planes were flying supplies into Soviet-blockaded Berlin from the western zones.

United States officials said they were transmitting a written protest to the Russians, charging violation of air safety regulations and demanding remedial action.

Capt. Vincent H. Gookin, U.S. representative at the four-power Berlin air safety centre, filed the protest. He said it was based on accounts by the pilots of two C-54 Skymasters.

The pilots reported they were buzzed (dived upon) by Soviet Yaks as they were carrying cargoes to Berlin through the Hamburg-Berlin corridor. They were in-bound from Fassburg, coal base for the air lift.

Gookin said the pilots assured the Yaks dived down at the supply transports and around them, coming within 100 feet.

Buzzing generally constitutes simulated attacks, shallow dives from above and swoops from the sides.

Vishinsky Bites As Bevin Blasts Soviet's Course Of Action

Soviet delegate to the United Nations General Assembly in Paris, Andrei Vishinsky (right), bit his nails as British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin (left), in one of the outstanding addresses to the delegates thus far, charged that Russia would be solely responsible if atomic war should engulf the world. A few moments later Vishinsky stalked from the assembly chamber in apparent anger. However, he later returned.

Germans Headed For Slave Labor In Red Mines Make Daring Escape

BERLIN (AP)—Berlin police said today about 25 Germans consigned to forced labor in Russian-operated uranium mines in Saxony made a daring escape Tuesday night.

The prisoners made their dash for freedom while the train in which they were riding was passing through the British sector of Berlin, police said.

Full details of the escape were not disclosed. A British spokesman said the Germans who fled now are in the custody of west Berlin police and are being interrogated. British authorities also are investigating the case.

German police sources, confirmed by British authorities, said 52 Germans were bound for the uranium mines aboard a train which halted Tuesday night near the zoological garden in the British sector. About half succeeded in breaking away and fleeing through the station.

The conscripts were presumably en route from points west of Berlin in the Soviet zone to the mines near the Saxon-Czech border.

DRAFTS INCREASED
There have been reports recently in Western-licensed German newspapers that labor drafts for the uranium mines have been increased by the Russians. Anti-Communists also have claimed persons under political prosecution, especially socialists, have been sent to the mines in increasing numbers. Thousands of Germans—men and women—have been working the mines for the last three years.

Clothing Makers Doing All Right, Price Probe Finds

OTTAWA (CP)—Chairman C. A. Curtis of the Prices Commission today said a clothing manufacturer today that a return of $5,000 to $6,000 on a $15,000 capital investment is "something we'd all like to get into."

The manufacturer, Arthur Jacobs of Montreal, had presented financial records showing the Union Overall Manufacturing Co., which he manages, had a net profit of $5,956 in 1947 on a $15,000 capital investment.

"I submit to you that any industry that has a 33-1-3-per-cent return on its capital isn't a bad proposition," Prof. Curtis said. "I think you would find it difficult to justify these increasing margins to many people."

He was referring to the trade practice of taking the same percentage mark-up as prices go up, with the result that the actual margin measured in dollars and cents increases considerably.

Commission counsel, H. A. Dyde suggested that, as prices rise, percentage margins of profit could be reduced and still leave good financial returns.

"As I look at the schedules (of the company's financial position) I think you are doing extraordinarily well," Mr. Dyde commented.

Police Question Youth

WINNIPEG (CP)—City police said today they were holding Charles J. K. Garson, 20, of no fixed abode, in connection with last Saturday's $13,000 robbery which relieved a Toronto commercial traveler of about 1,000 jeweled rings. He was captured after a chase which lasted almost two hours Tuesday night, participated in by six cruiser cars and 12 policemen.

Australian Labor Approves Sending Troops Abroad

CANBERRA (Reuter)—The Australian Labor Party today supported Australia's action in sending men and arms outside Australia for the defence of the Commonwealth, thus reversing a 32-year-old policy of opposition. They "completely endorsed" the Commonwealth's action in sending arms to Malaya.

The conference's view was that Australia is bound to go to the defence of New Zealand and Pacific possessions, including the Manus naval base and such strategic Allied bases as Guadalcanal.

Police Stopped Bingo Games As Business Here

Mayor Percy George today confirmed a report that police had stopped Lions Club and the James Bay Community Centre from holding bingo games in violation of the Criminal Code, and he revealed a chain of circumstances leading up to this action.

"These two organizations were caught in a web, and there is nothing I can do about it," he stated.

The action started in the first week of September when Acting Police Chief John Blackstock called a halt to the setting up of two bingo business establishments in town, Mayor George said.

"As I understand it," he continued, "certain people were planning to operate regular bingo games for personal profit."

"It was natural that the police took the action they did," the mayor said.

Then when the community group and the Lions Club advertised bingo games, the police had no alternative but to give these cases the same treatment, he stated.

The Criminal Code allows bingo games in connection with agricultural fairs and church functions with a "limited amount" of players.

Airplane Carrying Mother, Son Seen Crashed In Bush

EDMONTON (CP)—R.C.A.F. headquarters announced two Dakota aircraft, part of a seven-plane air search, today sighted a missing light plane in which a mother and her son were flying Tuesday from Watson Lake, Y.T., to Fort Nelson, B.C.

A spokesman at headquarters said the two R.C.A.F. planes simultaneously reported finding the maroon Stinson aircraft lying on its back in brush about 45 miles from its destination.

A report from Fort Nelson said the light plane was only a few hundred yards from the Alaska Highway which Mrs. A. L. Linter of Anchorage, Alaska, had been following to Fort Nelson. A two-man parachute rescue unit which had been standing by in Fort Nelson left immediately with a ground party for the crash scene.

The two aircraft reported no signs of life around the overturned plane, but officials said Mrs. Linter and her son may have escaped uninjured and started to walk along the highway to Fort Nelson.

Parachute Mystery

VANCOUVER (CP)—Air and ground searchers today were in the Lytton, B.C., district, 100 miles northeast of here, to investigate a report that a parachute had been sighted hanging in a clump of trees. The discovery was made by civilian pilot Dan McIver of Vancouver, who said he sighted the parachute yesterday 12 miles east of Lytton.

Goering's Story

In Installment 9 on page 2 today, Hermann Goering reveals that Hitler was the instigator of many of the most brilliant tactics of the war.

PARIS (CP)—Britain, the United States and France accused Russia before the bar of the United Nations today of menacing world peace with a blockade of Berlin which has brought Germany's first city to the brink of economic ruin.

The three western powers told the United Nations in identical notes that the Soviet Union is bent upon driving them out of Berlin and bringing the city solely under Russian rule.

"It is clear from the protracted exchange of notes and the conversations which have taken place on the initiative of the three governments between them and the Soviet government that the three governments... have made every effort to resolve their differences directly with the Soviet government," the notes said.

The notes were delivered to Secretary-General Trygve Lie shortly after 4 p.m.

British sources said they did not believe the 11-country Security Council will take action on the Western charges before Monday since the Western notes did not request "urgent" action.

Earlier, Dmitri Manuilski, Foreign Minister of the Soviet Union, told the General Assembly that "Mr. Bevin and M. Pa-l-Henri Spaak are playing with fire."

In an attack on the Assembly speeches of the British and Belgian foreign ministers, he said the United States now was the focus of a "new war psychosis" spreading throughout the world.

Bevin had "rattled" the atomic weapon from the United Nations' rostrum itself. His suggestion that regional arrangements were the best hope for peace was "a body blow at the status of the United Nations," Manuilski said.

Yugoslavia Backs Russians

His speech followed another retort to Bevin made by Edvard Kardelj, Foreign Minister of Yugoslavia, who denied that east European countries had been "forbidden" to join the Marshall Plan.

Soviet and other eastern delegates led the applause which followed his speech.

Kardelj said the world's woes are due to the anti-Soviet policies of the western powers. Premier Tito of Yugoslavia and his lieutenants recently were denounced by the Communist International Information Bureau (Cominform) for departing from Moscow's Communist line.

As Kardelj spoke, western informants disclosed Britain, the United States and France would send identical notes to the U.N. by 4 p.m. today, calling for Security Council action in the Berlin crisis. (The notes were sent.)

A British spokesman said the western powers decided Tuesday not to call for urgent U.N. consideration of the east-west dispute. This decision was made for these reasons:

1. There is no actual fighting in progress in Berlin.
2. There is no desire to stampe or high-pressure the U.N.

On the basis of this decision, the Council is not likely to be summoned for the next three days. A British spokesman said Monday appears the likeliest day for the next Council meeting.

Kardelj supported the Soviet proposal for big-power reduction of armaments and armed forces by one-third and the prohibition of atomic weapons.

He attacked the U.N. Special Commission on the Balkans and said the United States was pursuing an "expansionist policy" in Greece, accompanied by "a rising wave of mass terror," which he said was inspired by American representatives there.

The American expansionist policy, he said, "is manifesting itself in the creation and development of western Europe, in the keeping of armies in the terriories of Allied and other countries, in the machinations in the Middle East, in the re-establishment of Japan as an anti-Soviet base, in the non-fulfillment of peace treaties, in the organization of a vast system of military bases, in the refusal to consider disarmament and the prohibition of atomic energy as a means of waging war."

SPEAKS OF 'INDEPENDENCE'

The Yugoslav said "the conditions laid down by the so-called Marshall Plan are unacceptable for an independent country. 'It is evident such conditions have been laid down on purpose, in order to make them unacceptable to the Soviet Union and the people's democracies.'"

Dimitri Manuilski, Ukrainian Foreign Minister, accused the United States of "incitement to war" and trying to "split Europe in order to conquer Europe."

Britain, Yugoslavia Near Trade Pact

LONDON (AP)—An informed British source said today Britain and Yugoslavia are within sight of a trade agreement for 1949.

Britain, seeking a non-dollar source of vital food and raw materials, began negotiations with Yugoslavia some time ago.

The agreement, if reached, would not become effective until the two countries settle their long-standing dispute as expected, over Britain's $12,000,000 ($48,000,000) claim for compensation for British properties confiscated by Yugoslavia after the war.

Fixed Price On Technical School; Expected To Be Opened January 1

The Greater Victoria School Board is not taking any chances of having to seek additional funds for completion of the vocational-technical school at Victoria High School.

Austin I. Curtis, board chairman, said the contractor and architects understand definitely the board's policy—that $259,756 is the fixed price and no more money will be spent.

"If any extras are found necessary there has to be a saving somewhere else," Mr. Curtis stated.

WORK ON SCHEDULE

He said the contractors, Commonwealth Construction Company, are pretty well on schedule and there is every indication the school will be completed and ready for opening on Jan. 1 next.

Work on the school was started in May this year. Birley, Wade and Stockhill are the architects.

Students from the whole Greater Victoria area desiring technical training will attend Victoria High School for academic classes as well as technical instruction.

USE KINGS SCHOOL

"Technical courses were started last year and until the new school is opened the old Kings Road school is being utilized as the new wing of Victoria High School."

The new school, Mr. Curtis stated, is designed to accommodate the needs of Greater Victoria for many years to come. "We made certain of that by a survey before plans were drawn up," he said.

MRS. KASENKINA TELLS ALL Installment 4

Teachers' Lives Were Made Unbearable

(In this, the fourth installment of her own story, Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina continues her account of the persecution of her husband under the Soviet dictatorship. She relates the story of how Communism came to the schools, how the teachers were terrorized and how the wild, vagabond children overran the country. These events were to have a bearing on her decision to make her daring leap from the window of the Soviet consulate in New York years later.)

By
Oksana S. Kasenkina

(Edited by ISAAC DON LEVINE and Copyright, 1948, by KING Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WHEN my husband, Demyan, was warned by the friendly chairman of the local Soviet to leave town, there was no place for us to go. He was hailed before the Cheka, as the dreaded secret police was then known, subjected to a rigorous interrogation, made to fill out an exhaustive questionnaire, but was let go.

This became part of the pattern of our life in the years to come. Not only Demyan, but many teachers, professional people and former merchants, the so-called bourgeois elements, were subjected to periodic interrogations or arrests.

Whenever there was a change of the commissar, and that happened often, there would be a fresh wave of Red terror. The persecution of Demyan would be renewed. After a hard day at school, often on a half-empty stomach, he would sometimes come home with the disturbing announcement:

"They called me again. I must report tonight. Will there ever be an end to this questioning?"

Through the years he filled out scores of interminable questionnaires, each one aimed at catching the suspect in some discrepancy or mistake as compared with his previous answers. Having once been marked, as a former commissioned officer during World War I. In the Czarist army, Demyan was a perennial quarry for the inquisitors of the Cheka, which later was re-named the GPU, and then the KNPV.

The fact that my father was a workingman whose mechanical skill was highly valued, stood us in good stead. My husband's erstwhile protector, however, the chairman of the Soviet, was removed from his post for his humanness. Soviet officials, to keep their jobs and to rise, have to be ruthless. Whenever one of them displays consideration for his fellow-men, he does not last long.

In the schools, too, where my husband and I were teaching, the ministers of the Komsomol terrorized the teachers. Our work then was aggravated by the bezprizorny children—the orphaned waifs left in the wake of the devastating famine of 1921-22.

It was during this period that the great masses of the Russian people first came to know something about America and her non-political generosity. The ARA (American Relief Administration headed by Herbert Hoover) was distributing food to the millions of starving all over the country. Occasionally we, too, received bags of American flour, although our district did not experience in full the horrors of the holocaust which afflicted the Volga provinces most of all. Yet I recall how we were all affected when a young teacher in a neighboring village was found dead from starvation.

Kids Who Killed

The revolution, the civil war, the epidemics, and then the famine had successively produced their crops of bezprizorny. These vagabond children became a national problem, and the bane of the teachers' lives.

In age they mostly ranged from seven to sixteen. They were constantly on the move, foraging for food, begging, stealing, sometimes killing. When rounded up by the authorities, they would usually run away. Dressed in rags, ridden with disease, these wild, almost animal-like deviants demoralized the normal children.

There were many family tragedies caused by the bezprizorny. Inducing other youngsters to join their ranks. Often, when a boy was punished by his parents or had some difficulty in school, he would join a band of gipsy children and sometimes vanish for good. There were girls among the waifs, too, and vice reached a new low.

One day, with a book under my arm, I went with my little Oleg to the nearby Slavynsk health resort, to while away time at the park famous for its salt lakes. While my boy was play-

GOERING'S OWN STORY . . . By WERNER BROSS

'Hitler Great Man, But He Lived Too Long'

Installment 9

(Werner Bross, counsel for Goering at the Nuremberg trial, who took down at the Reich Marshal's dictation the final opinions of a man who knew he was facing death, today reveals in Goering's own words that defeat, disaster, and a personal falling out with Hitler did not shake his faith in Nazism and its leader.)

TO THE DAY of his death, Reich Marshal Hermann Goering believed firmly that Hitler had been one of the greatest men in history and that fundamentally his principles had been right.

He believed it in spite of the fact that the ruins of Hitler's Third Reich had crashed down upon his own head; in spite of his own loss of influence during the last three years of the Nazi regime; in spite of his criticism of Hitler's interference in his own Luftwaffe; in spite of the last-minute events which caused Hitler to depose Goering as his political heir and brought about the Marshal's arrest at Berchtesgaden. And he was bitter when his co-defendants denied their leader and his theories in the attempt to save their skins at the Nuremberg trial.

"I could have brought up many things against Hitler myself, after he had sentenced me and my family to death just because he had received a falsified radio message, without listening to my story," Goering told me one day, after he had been criticizing the attitude of his fellows in the dock. "I could have talked of the serious differences which darkened our relations for years and could very often have led to a complete break. But these fellows—that was the way he referred to the prosecution—'have never succeeded in getting me to say a single word against Hitler."

"When Maxwell Eyfke asked whether I still wanted to glorify National Socialism after all the revelations that had been made, I answered, 'I am not here to glorify anything, but to keep my oath. That is the right thing to do in difficult times.'"

It was clear that he was proud of this answer not because it replied to the prosecution lawyer, but because it was a biting reproach to his weaker colleagues, for he added at once:

"If Hitler were sitting in the dock with us, I should like to see if the defendants would have dared to say in his presence some of the words they pronounce so readily now!"

Another Genghis Khan

FOR THE No. 2 Nazi, history was the creation of great men and Hitler was one of the greatest. One day I put to him the view that the great changes which occur during the processes of economic and cultural evolution cannot be ascribed to the influence of individuals. He disagreed strongly.

"The real material for history," he said, "is made up of great men and their deeds. Men like Cromwell, Charles XII of Sweden, Napoleon, Bismarck—Hitler. A hundred years from now Hitler will be judged from the point of view of having been a great motivating force of European life."

"You are still young. You will see that the developments of the next few decades will prove that Hitler was right. Today people are horrified because of his methods, intended to achieve long-range objectives far-off in the future, were criminal. How does the world regard Genghis Khan today? No longer a wild barbarian, an enemy of Christianity, but as the genius who founded the states of Central Asia."

Goering was also at odds with the generals who so often complained at the interference of Hitler in their affairs. It is true that the Reich Marshal had been critical of Hitler's demands on his own department, the air force, but he did not agree when the generals reacted in the same fashion.

Ardenne Was Hitler's Idea

THE OFFENSIVE of the Ardennes," Goering said of it, might have changed the fortunes of war and made possible a compromise peace. That was Hitler's last really brilliant idea. But he shouldn't have placed the decisive aggressive power of six Panzer divisions in the hands of Sepp Dietrich, a former non-commissioned officer. (Goering was apparently unaware in this criticism since Hitler also was a former non-commissioned officer, a corporal.)

"At that time most of the 65 Allied divisions were tied down on the other sectors of the front and Eisenhower had only seven operational divisions at his disposal. Of the 63 German divisions in the west, 36 faced the Allies and were available for free action. A successful push to Antwerp and the capture of that city would have put the German armor at the rear of the enemy and led to the collapse of the whole western front. Only near Paris was there a single enemy division in reserve ready to fight."

"But the Panzer divisions failed to get ahead. Without artillery support, my two paratroop divisions were destroyed far ahead of the Panzers, and after five days of fog which had hampered the enemy air fleets, fine weather returned and the overwhelming superiority of the enemy air force was again applied. If the breakthrough had already been achieved by this time, then the opposing armies would have been at such close range that Allied air superiority couldn't have much effect."

"The tremendous danger of this German offensive was best known to the enemy himself. Do you know that Kettel (Field Marshal Wilhelm von Keitel), Jodl (Col. Gen Gustav Jodl, German chief of staff) and myself were questioned for a whole month about the Ardennes offensive alone?"

Memory Was Prodigious

HITLER'S SUCCESS as a strategist, Goering believed, was due partly to his prodigious memory for detail.

"Once he pointed out to me the difficulties which the Richthofen Squadron—to which Goering had belonged in World War I—experienced in adapting engines to a new plane. I didn't even know of it myself! On another occasion we needed some cheap cannon for experimental purposes. The Fuehrer said, 'Haven't we four old mortars somewhere, left over from the last war?' No one knew anything about them, but when an investigation was made, he proved to be right."

"He carried in his head the details of armaments, armor, speed and draft of practically every important warship in the world. Ask him for the figures on, say, a Brazilian cruiser, and he could provide them at a moment's notice."

"From the time the war began," Goering told me, "the Fuehrer worked like a horse. He stopped going to concerts, operas, public performances. He even gave up the movies, though in the past he had been accustomed to having every important picture shown in his private theatre. He did make it a point never to miss the news reels."

"All his time was spent in military and political discussions. He read a lot—and brooded. He kept strategic and statistical works piled on a table at his bedside. He had a special gift for statistics. He could read over complicated technical data and remember page after page of it without a mistake."

Yes, for Goering, Hitler remained the Fuehrer, the master, the man to be admired and to be followed even after his death at the end of the disastrous war into which he had led his countrymen. Goering went to his grave without recanting his faith in his leader. He conceded only that under the strain of his great efforts, Hitler's powers had weakened towards the end.

In view of Goering's belief in the military genius of Hitler, it is surprising that he placed the peak of his achievement before the war. He thought, in fact, that Hitler had lived a little too long. For he said to me once:

"I am of the opinion today that it might perhaps have been best if the Fuehrer had died in an auto accident after the Munich conference. Then he would really have been remembered as one of the greatest men in the history of Germany."

Tolstoy Barred

The license of the early years of the Soviet regime was stimulated by the sudden ban on all religious instruction. The school became an adjunct of the Communist propaganda machine. The first duty of a teacher was to act as a revolutionary agitator. Even works of famous authors which had a moral theme were proscribed from the libraries.

The religious and philosophical works of Leo Tolstoy, such as his "A Confession," were taken out of circulation. Certain writings of the great Ukrainian poet, Shevchenko, for instance, at one time suffered a similar fate, only to be restored to official favor when the policy changed.

The life of a Soviet teacher in those days was doubly trying for we had to go through a course of political re-training. The idea of freedom in education was dumped overboard. Instead, we teachers had to be converted into Lenin's slogan, "The school, apart from life, apart from politics, is a lie, a hypocrisy." We teachers were taught that, according to Lenin, there is no such thing as independent education, that the school system had before been a tool of capitalism and was now to be converted into a tool of Communism.

Communist Party inspectors would unexpectedly appear in the classrooms to check the teachers' adherence to the propaganda line. There was the case of Popova, our fourth grade history teacher, who, in the presence of such an inspector, failed to explain Napoleon's invasion of Russia according to the new Leninist interpretation. The inspector flew out of the room and exploded to the director:

Heresy Hunt

"Huh, what a lesson!" He instituted an immediate investigation into her origin and background, and found that she was the daughter of a priest. "Well, that explains everything," he exclaimed. "What can one expect from the daughter of a priest. She must be a counter-revolutionary!"

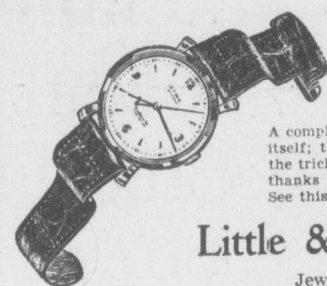

The slightest deviation from the plan laid down by the ruling Communist Party meant an inquisitorial scrutiny by the secret police of the past and pedigree of the instructor. The official teaching plan called for our tying up everything, from botany to ties, my husband and I were never sure of tomorrow.

Hunt For Montreal Bandit Murderers Moves To North Bay

PEMBROKE, Ont. (CP)—The search for Donald and Douglas Perreault, wanted in the slaying of two Montreal policemen, has shifted to the North Bay area, police said today.

Police said the hunt in this region early Tuesday—biggest in Ottawa Valley history—came close to being a success. The Perreaults who are not related, are known to have been in the Sheenboro, Que., district, 20 miles northwest of here.

The grandfather of Donald Perreault unwittingly played host to the wanted men on his lonely farm near Sheenboro, police said. With no radio, no newspapers, no contact with outsiders, he was unaware of the slayings and the manhunt until he went to a funeral in the village of Chapleau Monday.

After the funeral, the 83-year-old man returned home and ordered the Perreaults off his place.

Chinese Reds Hanged

SINGAPORE (Reuter)—Two Chinese Communists captured last month after an armed raid were hanged Tuesday at Kuala Lumpur. They had been found guilty of possessing arms illegally. Both confessed they were Communists.

Diabetics Warned Of New Treatment

TORONTO (CP)—Warning against use of self-prescribed vitamin E as diabetic treatment was issued today by Dr. Iven Shute, head of the Medical Research foundation bearing his name.

Dr. Shute felt that some diabetic patients might abandon their essential insulin treatment because of recent publicity given the benefits of vitamin E to diabetics.

Such change of treatment, he said, would prove dangerous and possibly fatal within four days to certain types of patients. The vitamin, he said, actually worsened the condition of some patients.

The warning, issued through the foundation—which has carried on extensive research into vitamin E—said it was essential for diabetics taking vitamin E to receive insulin also. And vitamin E should be taken by diabetics only when prescribed by doctors.

CALGARY (CP)—The University of Alberta may have a course in real estate, because of a resolution passed at the second annual convention of the Alberta Real Estate Association at Edmonton Sept. 25.

The resolution provides for the appointment of a committee of three to discuss with university authorities the possibility of establishing a real estate course.

William Cox, Dalhousie University, Halifax, and William L. Archer, McGill University, Montreal.

Fortune In Jewels Taken By Bandits

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman was robbed of jewelry valued at between $40,000 and $50,000 early today by three towel-masked bandits who invaded her hotel room and bound and gagged her.

Police identified the woman as Mrs. Sonja Loew, 31, of Milton, Mass., who said she was married to Elias M. Loew of the Loew's theatre family in 1936. She said they were divorced last January.

Indonesia Reports Fierce Fighting

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—The Republic Defence Ministry said tonight that fierce fighting between the Republic army and Communist troops was in progress near Wonogiri, south of Soerakarta. A communique, broadcast by the Jogjakarta radio, said the road between Wonogiri and Communist-held Ponorogo was cut when Red forces captured the village of Sidonardjo.

VALEDICTORY?

IT WAS FITTING THAT WHAT MAY be recorded as one of the last important international addresses of Mackenzie King as Prime Minister should have been of a nature to epitomize the qualities of patience, morality and sober long-term judgment that have combined to make him one of the great statesmen in Canada's history. Delivered yesterday before the United Nations Assembly at Paris, the speech was twice interrupted by the applause of the distinguished delegates, and the Canadian leader was given a tremendous ovation as he returned to his seat 20 minutes after ascending the rostrum.

The address that brought such a response from the diplomatic representatives of the nations of the world was not a clarion call for a show of might, nor was it a demand for forceful or extreme measures in coping with current global affairs. There was no sabre-rattling, no "war-mongering," no blatant appeal to nationalistic feeling or demagogic bid for emotionalism. This was a delivery in the Mackenzie King tradition, and it earned the tribute of some of the foreign correspondents who heard it as the "first moral call" to the world.

Freedom, security and reason were the key words of the Prime Minister's message, worthy topics for the valedictory speech of the 73-year-old statesman. The application of these three concepts, and their relationship to the international organization for peace, were of vital importance today, he said. All countries were "members of one another," the good of each dependent on the "good of all." But there was no temporizing with malignant forces. "It is vital to the defence of freedom," said Mr. King, "to maintain a preponderance of moral, economic and military strength on the side of freedom. All else is wholly secondary."

Mr. King no doubt spoke from a prepared manuscript as he faced the world conference. The importance of the occasion called for that. But as he urged the nations to bend their efforts toward "the light of ordered freedom and universal peace" he could hardly have needed notes to guide his discourse, for these were the concepts of moderation, tolerance, and moral responsibility that have governed his life. No Canadian who heard him could have failed to be proud that these worthy ideals were being voiced before the assembled nations as the convictions of this Dominion. And no Canadian could have been better chosen than the Prime Minister to place them on the record.

THE THIRD SERIES

WITHIN THE NEXT MONTH THE Third Series of Canada Savings Bonds will be offered to the public of this Dominion as a means of providing a safe investment for surplus family funds and a financial aid to the government. An additional benefit by no means to be disregarded is the draining off of money from needless purchases with a consequent reduction of inflationary pressure on the country's economy. Men and women who buy the bonds will be putting aside resources that will yield them a greater return of value when prices have declined—and they will receive interest payments while waiting.

As in the war issues and the two subsequent peacetime series, the bonds will be in denominations to cater to the wage-earner. They may be bought outright, or through the popular payroll deduction method; and, once started, a savings program through purchase of the bonds will put within ultimate reach many of the little extra comforts—the furniture, trips, household equipment and similar needs—that otherwise could never seem to be afforded. The bond issue, like its predecessors, should meet with a ready response.

A LABOR STRONGHOLD

FOUR SEATS IN THE BRITISH HOUSE of Commons are vacant. Tomorrow in the Gorbals division of Glasgow the voters will go to the polls to elect a successor to their former representative at Westminster, Mr. George Buchanan, who recently was appointed to the chairmanship of the new National Assistance Board—a position of emolument the acceptance of which requires him to vacate his seat.

It would be surprising if the electors of this Glasgow constituency changed their minds and returned to the House of Commons an opponent of the present administration. We say this for the simple reason that since the late Rt. Hon. G. M. Barnes won the seat in the election of December, 1918, for the Labor Party—he was then associated with the Lloyd George Coalition government—neither Liberal nor Conservative party aspirants have succeeded in wresting this important Glasgow division from its Socialist association.

In 1922, by the way, Mr. Buchanan headed the poll in a four-cornered contest with a slight plurality over his three opponents; in 1923 he defeated a Conservative in a straight fight by two to one; in 1924 he repeated the dose by about the same margin; in 1925 his victory was almost three to one; but in 1935, running under the banner of the Independent Labor Party, Mr. Buchanan polled no fewer than 22,860 votes against the Conservative's 5,824, and the straight Socialist's 1,786. More imposing than at any time before, however, in the general election of 1945, Mr. Buchanan collected 21,073 votes against a total of 5,269 rolled up by Lieut. I. MacTaggart, the Conservative.

We have quoted the political history of the Gorbals division of Glasgow, not because any government nominee anywhere in the democratic world at this stage may consider political history as a guide to the manner in which the electors will cast their ballots, but because if the present administration in office at Westminster should seek to expand its collective chests after the votes have been counted in this constituency tomorrow, they should not be surprised if their political opponents point to the fact that neither a Liberal nor a Conservative has represented this division in the House of Commons since the end of the First Great War.

TOY GUNS

AT ITS CONVENTION IN VANCOUVER last week, the Chief Constables' Association of Canada passed to its legislative committee a proposal to seek regulation of the manufacture and sale of realistic toy pistols—instruments, incidentally, which were used in 22 holdups in the mainland city last year. The suggestion has merit from many points of view. A victim, staring into the barrel of what appears to be a genuine automatic, is in no position to ask the holder if it is a plastic device with a whistle in one end. He can, of course, take a chance on the assumption that the hold-up weapon is a plaything. But that is a form of Russian roulette in which few would care to indulge. From the point of view of a potential victim endowed with reasonable caution, the toy is as good as the genuine article.

To the psychologist we leave the matter of determining what effect possession of such realistic fake weapons may have on the child who owns them. But, as adults, we feel justified in condemning them as the adjuncts of a type of play which brings little that is constructive into a child's life. Nor is that condemnation lessened by a realization that the youngster seldom buys for himself the toy gun—that it is usually a present from his elders.

STRIKING A BALANCE

FEW WILL CHALLENGE THE VALUE of physical education in Greater Victoria's schools. Nor will many ignore the merits of competitive games both for physical improvement and character development among pupils. On the other hand, sports activities for our young people can be carried to an extreme where they interfere with equally important academic work and lead to unbalanced development.

In recognition of this fact, the announced meeting of high school principals and city league officials this week should furnish an admirable opportunity to strike a happy medium for the boys and girls who play at school and have, during previous years, participated in fixtures in extra-curricular intermediate and senior sports schedules.

If agreement is reached on that issue, it should carry a double benefit. It could introduce a greater element of fairness to the enthusiastic athlete who may, under outside encouragement, be inclined to neglect prescribed studies in favor of league games. On the other hand it should preserve a lot of good athletic material for orderly graduation into senior play which, under the forced development of school and city league activity, might be burned out before its time.

HE WAS NOT HEADED

FOUR DAYS BEFORE PRIME MINISTER Chamberlain and Premier Daladier met Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini in Munich, Mr. Churchill, then a back-bencher in the House of Commons, said:

"A solemn warning should be presented to the German government in joint or simultaneous notes by Britain, France and Russia, that an invasion of Czechoslovakia at the present juncture would be taken as an act of war against these powers."

No useful purpose will be served at this stage by suggesting that the man who changed his political coat many times had warned the successive governments of Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Chamberlain of the manner in which Adolf Hitler was rearing against the democracies.

Mr. Churchill knew whereof he spoke. And in this Munich anniversary week may well speculate, albeit uselessly, on what might have happened to the world if the famous British statesman who loathed and abominated totalitarianism and all it portended had succeeded in convincing the stupid and unimaginative government which controlled the destinies of the British Isles between 1935 and 1939 that no freedom-loving people could do business with a hopeless megalomaniac.

CLOSE TO THE CHEST

WHATEVER MAY BE THE INDISCRETIONS charged against him in future, Ontario's Premier Drew appeared to be the epitome of caution on his arrival in Ottawa for the Progressive Conservative Party's national convention. He first declined to comment on the speculation that there is an alliance between his party and the Union Nationale of Quebec, and then, questioned on the probable outcome of the contest for national leadership, in which he is a central figure, replied:

"I have always decided in elections to let the decision rest with those who are going to make it."

No boisterous overconfidence there. And just as certainly as rain will fall this winter, the decision will rest with those who are going to make it.

To keep your friends, never ask for anything; or else learn not to put when they say no.

Walter Lippmann

MR. TRUMAN ON TOUR

BUT FOR MR. TRUMAN'S campaign tour it would never have been possible to prove to the country how small a part Mr. Truman actually plays in the great office which he holds.

On this trip he will have been away from Washington 16 days, all of them from early morning to late at night devoted to speeches, parades, handshaking and to conferences with local candidates and local bosses. In his spare time Mr. Truman may get by telephone or telegraph reports on what is happening in Berlin, in Paris, in London, in the State Department and in the Pentagon.

BUT THERE IS NOT even an attempt to pretend that the President of the United States is directing affairs, is making the decisions, is forming or conducting policy. Mr. Truman was touring the downtown shopping district of Los Angeles while the western allies were dispatching their negotiators to Moscow, while Secretary Marshall was addressing the United Nations, while in every capital the responsible men were in anxious consultation.

In the weeks before the Democratic convention there was much resentment among Mr. Truman's friends over the complaint that though he is a good man, a kindly man, a brave and loyal man, he is not equal to the office of President, that he does not understand it and does not know how to meet its responsibilities or to exercise its powers.

A COMPLAINT OF THAT kind is almost impossible to prove as long as the President remains in Washington within the majestic structure of his office. Nothing Mr. Dewey could have said, nothing that it would have been seemly for him to say, could have demonstrated, as has this campaign tour and the tours which are to follow it in October, how nominal, how actually negligible, is Mr. Truman's role in the great crisis of our times. But now the country has Mr. Truman's own estimate of how necessary it is for him to exercise the functions of the Presidency.

It has also a measure of the political sagacity of Mr. Truman's personal advisers. For in taking him off on this tour, imagining that he can talk his way to victory, they have displayed instead of covering up the fact that he does not lead, that he does not control, the administration of which he is the titular head.

INSTEAD OF TRYING to give the impression that he was working hard, working seriously, and working responsibly in these critical times, they have taken him away from the White House, away from the seat of government, not for a day or two now and then, but for weeks on end.

There is, one might say, a certain honesty in admitting that Mr. Marshall, Mr. Lovett and Mr. Bohlen, Mr. Forrestal, Mr. Draper, Mr. Royall, General Clay and Mr. Douglas have been handling the great conflict, which may mean peace or war, that they have not had guidance and leadership from the President, and that therefore his absence from Washington makes no difference.

But it is not good politics: A President ought at least to appear to be exercising the functions of his office.

MR. HOOVER WAS NOT a master mind in politics, and his political position in 1932 was as bad as Mr. Truman's today. But Mr. Hoover did understand the office of President, and he did know what the people expect of the President. The original plan of his campaign was to stay in Washington and work on the problems of the great depression, and to let others go around campaigning. By October he revised this plan and made a few brief trips to deliver speeches, returning quickly to Washington in the intervals.

As for Roosevelt in 1940 and in 1944, the essential idea of his campaign strategy—much to the annoyance of his opponents—was to give the impression, which was also true—perhaps much too true—that the government could not function without him.

IF THERE HAS EVER been a President in office who followed Mr. Truman's campaign pattern, he must have lived long ago in much quieter and easier times than we alas, have known.

Quoting

In the United States, weapons merely support policy, they do not create it.—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army Chief of Staff.

I should be working on percentage.—Satchel Paige, ancient Cleveland pitcher, noting that 78,000 fans had come out to see him pitch.

I am never an optimist—I hope for the best and expect the worst.—Walter Bedell Smith, U.S. Ambassador to Moscow, after one of his many recent conferences at the Kremlin.

I have fought the good fight. I have finished my walk. I have kept my belief.—Queen Wilhelmina, abdicating the Netherlands throne to her daughter, after 50 years.

Mankind can only gain protection against . . . annihilation if a supra-national organization has alone the authority to possess (the latest scientific) weapons. It is unthinkable, however, that nations would hand over such an authority to a supra-national organization unless the organization would have the legal right and duty to solve all the conflicts which in the past have led to war.—Dr. Albert Einstein.

'WAIT FOR THE FACTS'

For how long? Surely the record of waste and mismanagement of the last 30 years is enough. The per capita debt is far too high. Why not throw the weight of your influence in favour of a manager?

G. WILSON,
263 Transit Road, Oak Bay.

DRAB BY ALL MEANS

Reading the recent article, on his return from Belgium and Britain, of Alderman F. N. Cabell, re conditions and the monotonous rations allowed the people of Britain, it is with regret one reads the "Rebuttal" in Saturday's "Times" by Mrs. H. Clayton.

It seems this lady spent her vacation residing at hotels in the holiday resorts of the south of England or living with relatives, apart from staying one night in a London hotel with a farewell meal in the dining room at Waterloo railway station. To her knowledge, the shortages over there are soap, sugar, rice and tapioca. I disagree with her. Hotel rates are very high and it is questionable if any management would state there was not sufficient linen, etc., or that soiled towels are laundered immediately for the next guest. Restaurants, this is the only outlet for Britons who can possibly afford to eke out the meagre rations, certainly not by large or even small families.

There has to be food in the shops so that the government rationing can be carried out. There are also reservations for tourists (especially from Canada). Britons cannot get what ever is on sale. Evidently Mrs. Clayton has little or no information on the point system for food and clothes, etc., etc., rationing.

Last week bananas sold in London at 75 cents a lb. (these are for children only). I agree with the correspondent, that children are the first consideration in Britain, also that people living in the country can obtain vegetables, fruit and some eggs locally. No reference to the meat allowance (20 cents worth or ten penny worth a week) enough for perhaps one meal, including bone and gristle, one egg per week, scarcity of many of the rationed items, or the load on the shoulders of the mother and housewife to provide for the family.

The parcels for Britain, sent by the citizens of Victoria through the Mayor's Fund, the many service and fraternal organizations and by those who have relatives over there, have been a God-send to many, who will never forget the little extras.

MRS. JULIA HALL,
1044 Yates St.

ECONOMIC REALISM

It is my understanding that the Victoria carpenters are asking for an increase from $1.40 per hour to $1.55 per hour. Surely this is most unwise.

Carpenters and other building mechanics are already more highly paid in comparison with other wage earners. They have been very steadily employed in recent years. However, increases which would naturally follow for other building mechanics, if carpenters get their increase, would render it impossible to continue to build houses, which are so sorely needed by our veterans and others who simply cannot pay these high rates. The government or industries may be able to pay these rates, but this does not constitute the bulk of the work done in Victoria, and it seems to me the carpenters and other building mechanics will be voting themselves out of a job if they press this demand. Although millions are voted now for schools sorely needed here, they cannot be built under present day high costs.

If municipalities and the government cannot afford to build for this reason, how can an individual such as myself? Building at Port Alberni was sorely checked when the rate rose to $1.55 per hour. I appeal to the individual carpenter to make his own decision and make his voice felt in this matter. Also I would like to hear from those in this city who are trying to build a house. What do you intend to do about it?

A. M. BROWNE,
425 Michigan Street.

THAT TEACHER RESOLUTION

From recent articles in the press, it would appear that the writers were not fully informed on the resolution passed by the Trustees' Convention re employment of married school teachers.

The resolution, if accepted, would enable the School Board to terminate the employment of women who marry during the school term. Note that it would enable the Board to do this. It does not mean that the Board must or would use this power if it were not in the best interests of the school system over which they had jurisdiction.

It seems rather astonishing that it would be assumed that the Boards are not, at all times, considering the securing of the very best teachers they can employ.

In considering the rights of women as opposed to those of men, it must be borne in mind that there may be many times, young, unmarried women who have completed their training and urgently need work, whereas in the same district a teacher may have married a man well capable of providing a living. These are points which are necessarily carefully considered by school boards and they therefore must have freedom of choice if they are to intelligently conduct their business.

'A Policy Of Planned Chaos'

By JAMES THRASHER from New York

THE UNITED NATIONS General Assembly is badly in need of a miracle as it meets again in the midst of the world's greatest postwar crisis. It needs not only a miracle of patience and wisdom from the delegates of the participating nations. It needs a miracle, inside or outside its organization, to supplant the Soviet policy with a policy of reason.

WAR OF NERVES

For, as the Assembly convenes, Russia's national imperialism and international communism have united forces to wage a global war of nerves. One battlefield of that war lies before the delegates' eyes in Paris, where strikes, clashes between Communists and de Gaulists, and an unstable government have reduced unhappy France to a new level of postwar misfortune.

Events in Berlin have reached the point where western diplomats in Moscow are told that there is "no point in trying to force Stalin" in their effort to dissolve the German crisis. The question of the future of Italy's former colonies is now muddled further by Russia's unexpected and illogical reversal of position. Greece's lingering civil war has now been complicated by an excursion across the Greek border by Yugoslav troops which their Communist government explained, became "lost in a fog." In Burma, Malaya and Indonesia the struggles for independence are clouded and confused by Communist infiltration of the revolutionary forces. The Nationalist-Communist war in China continues, and the situation remains unsettled in divided Korea.

Only in Palestine and India is there strife that does not bear the unmistakable stamp of the hammer and sickle.

ATTEMPT SOLUTION

The Assembly will try, within its greatly limited authority, to solve some of these conflicts. It may consider the majority of them before it adjourns. But at best—and as usual—it can only discuss and recommend.

The Security Council, which should be voiceless except in final, extreme decisions, has become the scene of angry and inconclusive arguments instead of the agency of action it was meant to be. So it is left to the powerless Assembly to do whatever can be done.

The Assembly is an important voice of world opinion. The citizens of its member nations may be thankful that it is meeting at this time, and they may hope that its discussions will at least clear the air. But unless the needed miracle comes about, the principal efforts for world peace will still have to be made outside the United Nations.

Almost day by day the Russian policy becomes clearer and more intensified. It is a policy of unrest, of created confusion, of disagreement at all points. It is a policy of planned chaos which is intended either as a substitute for war or as a preparation for war.

WITH UNITY

Against this policy the democratic nations must still wage economic war on many fronts. They must fight for recovery and the preservation of liberty with money, with hard work, and above all with unity. The United States, as one of the world's two great powers, must lead the way. But it has the right to expect and demand co-operation in welding the united and determined front which offers the best hope for stability and peace.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

THE UNITED NATIONS faces its greatest crisis today as Britain, the United States and France throw the bitter Berlin conflict into the lap of the Security Council, charging that the Red blockade is a threat to international peace.

Indeed the situation is so grave that the three-year-old peace organization is in danger of splitting, with the democracies and the Soviet bloc going separate ways.

The Soviet press in Moscow also told the Russian public yesterday that the two camps in the U.N. might go their separate ways, this despite the fact that Soviet delegate Vishinsky was quoted by a London paper as saying in an interview: "We shall not abandon the United Nations."

Well, supposing the U.N. does split—what follows? Foreign Secretary Bevin answered that in a horse-sense way by saying if it's impossible to work on a world-basis "we must proceed on a regional basis." That is, the Russian bloc would have its own organization and the democracies would have theirs.

NEVER UNITED

As a matter of cold fact there never has been a "United" Nations. The organization has been split wide open since the start, with the Communists using it for purposes of obstruction and as a grand sounding-board for Red propaganda.

So if the Russians want to desert the U.N. there need be no tears shed, although there will be regrets that there couldn't be collaboration.

FURTHER AWAY

But, says somebody, a split in the U.N. gets us further away from the ideal of "one world." I'm not so sure about that. We certainly are kidding ourselves if we think we are going to get one world through trying to make democracy and Communism mix.

They can't be made to mix under any circumstances. The Reds keep on telling us that our economy and form of government must be destroyed. Do they have to knock us down and drag us out before we recognize the situation?

Would-be mixers of oil and water might consider a statement by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in an address at the Sorbonne in Paris last night. She charged Russia with ruthless suppression of human rights at home and with interference in other countries' affairs. She urged the U.N. not to compromise with the Soviet bloc on the issue of human freedom, which she termed the "basic problem confronting the world today."

CLIPPED AT RANDOM

SELDOM MENTIONED

Ottawa Journal
According to its annual report, put out this week, Canada Packers last year paid $1,500,000 as a profit-sharing bonus to its employees, and $1,000,000 to its shareholders. In other words, the employees apart from their wages and salaries, got more than the shareholders. Socialists, when they assail private enterprise, seldom mention these things.

PURGES NO CURE

Windsor Star
It war should come, Russia would like strong fifth columns in democratic nations. She certainly would not like anti-Russian fifth columns operating in her own sphere. Purges tend to a degree to defeat themselves. The Nazis were never able completely to exterminate the undergrounds in Poland, Czechoslovakia or Yugoslavia. The more severe the purges, the greater the discontent of subject peoples.

SAME FATHER

Winnipeg Free Press
With the presidential campaign under way, an interesting historical fact is recorded in the current issue of the monthly, Freedom and Union. The invention of the symbols of the donkey for the Democratic party and of the elephant for the Republican party was the work of one man—Thomas Nast, the father of the political cartoon on this continent. As an agreeable exercise in decision, Nast, who was a Republican, drew the figure of the donkey, representing the Democrats, for Harpers' Weekly of Jan. 20, 1870. The elephant, as a party symbol, appeared on Nov. 7, 1874 in a drawing by Nast in the New York Herald.

D.P.'s Coming Here For Reunion With Victoria Relatives

Years of separation and worry will come to an end with the arrival here of nine displaced persons, part of a group of 71 coming to B.C.

Among the first to arrive will be Arthur and Adeline Marks of Poland and their son, Siegfried, scheduled to reach Victoria today for a reunion with Mrs. Martha Klassen, 1139 McClure Street, who has not seen her brother, Mr. Marks, for 30 years. Another reunion which will take place a little later will be that of Mrs. R. E. Adamson, 1163 Johnson Street, who will see her daughter and grandchildren for the first time in 14 years. They are the Gersbach family, all of whom are coming from Germany. They stopped off at Edmonton to visit relatives there but will continue to Victoria to live with Mrs. Adamson in a new home at 224 Wilson Street.

The Gersbach family includes Verona Gersbach, Erna, Margot, Monika and Robert.

Still another displaced person is Maria Harris, who is coming from Germany to Joseph G. Schmidt, of Bamberton.

GETS SEVEN DAYS

A sentence of seven days in jail and suspension of his driver's licence was given Frank H. Hooper, 150 Maddock Street, by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court Tuesday.

During the course of the present tour Miss Milloy and Miss Murray will visit 17 cities.

Pass Airpark Zoning By-Law With Councillor In Chair

The zoning by-law amendment which will permit construction of the proposed Gordon Head Airpark survived final passage at a lively meeting of the Saanich Council Tuesday night, but only after Councillor L. H. Passmore had taken the chair in place of Reeve E. C. Warren.

A challenge for the reeve to face the people at the next elections over the airpark issue was issued by Councillor George Rudd.

The airpark by-law, which followed three hours of relatively dull routine matters on the agenda, stirred up dissension in the group, with members trying to get a word in whether in order or not.

REFUSED MOTION

It all started when Reeve Warren refused to accept the motion of Councillor William Kersey that the final reading of the by-law be passed.

The reeve stated he was acting upon the advice of municipal counsel who had said in a letter that in their opinion, the by-law was invalid, since three-fifths of the entire council was required to pass a by-law, not three-fifths of those present at a council meeting, as had occurred at an earlier reading.

Councillor Kersey said that since the lawyer who had made the statement pointed out that it was only an opinion, there was nothing to prevent his motion.

Councillor Kersey then moved that Councillor Passmore take over the chair. The motion was passed with Councillor Genn protesting that "this is some kind of manoeuvre, and we are not here for that sort of thing."

The zoning by-law amendment was then passed with Councillor Tom Alexander failing to vote, and thus being counted as favorable.

WHAT NEXT?

"What do we do now?" asked one councillor.

"Nothing," replied Councillor Passmore, still in the chair, "it's time this issue was brought to a head. It's now up to those opposed to the airpark to prove the by-law invalid. I imagine they will go to the Department of Municipal Affairs."

CRITICIZES REEVE

Councillor Rudd's challenge to Reeve Warren to face the public on the airpark question was firmly expressed.

"I have supported you in the past, Mr. Reeve," he stated, "but I have lost a great deal of confidence in you since this airpark matter has been up before the council. I cannot support your actions any longer. In fact, I would challenge you to face the public on the whole question at the next elections."

Reeve Warren did not answer. Earlier, Councillor Alexander had suggested that many deadlocks would be eliminated if there were only six wards in the municipality instead of seven, thus making a total of seven votes at council meetings.

25-Cent Shoeshine Fails In Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP) — Tuesday was a blue inaugural day for Winnipeg's proposed 25-cent shoeshine—it died before it was unveiled.

Most citizens are getting their shoes polished for the usual 15-cent fee. Fear that customers would consider shoe shining a luxury at 25 cents led three-quarters of the city's shoe shiners to balk at the new price tag.

Worker Electrocuted

VANCOUVER (CP) — James Miller, 30-year-old Fraser River workman, was killed instantly Tuesday by a 12,000-volt shock from a high tension wire. Miller, a pile driving company employee, was electrocuted when something, possibly a cable of the pile driving equipment, made contact with the high tension wires.

Island Farmers Seek Class 'A' Fair Close To Victoria

NANAIMO—A class A fair for Vancouver Island to be held in a suitable location in or near Victoria was favored by Vancouver Island Farmers' Institutes No. A, including all of the Island and Gulf Islands, at the annual meeting here.

Twenty-four resolutions were dealt with by the 18 delegates and included one protesting daylight saving; complaint that middle island farmers have had applications in for the past three years for use of government farm equipment they were given to understand would be made available to them by the government, and as yet have not received it.

Other resolutions favored erection of a steel mill on the island, asked the government to share a greater proportion of the cost of treatment of Bangs disease among cattle, and sought a floor price for spring potatoes of $55 per ton instead of $50.

A. R. Hiscock of Victoria was elected president; W. H. Dunn, Cobble Hill, and A. J. Mason, Hilliers, vice-presidents; J. T. Neen, East Wellington, secretary-treasurer; A. McIntyre, Victoria, advisory board member and D. Dunn, Nanaimo, auditor.

Dies At Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP)—Within a few blocks of a by-gone log cabin at the foot of Nanaimo's famed Bastion where she was born 92 years ago, Mrs. Amanda McGregor died following a stroke Tuesday.

She was the oldest of native borns here and was the daughter of John and Mrs. Meakin, who came to Nanaimo with a party of coal miners in 1854 aboard the Princess Royal. The Royal landed the first coal miners from Staffordshire, England, to work in the Hudson's Bay Company mine here.

Vandal Pushes Over Nanaimo Grave Stones

NANAIMO (CP)—Police here are seeking a vandal who demolished a plastic airplane cockpit covering a grave in Nanaimo cemetery.

Last week several headstones were rocked from their foundations and hurled on the ground in apparently motiveless desecrations.

Police have adopted "special methods" to apprehend the despoiler.

PORT ALBERNI—Reports of the provincial government investigation committee on the L. F. Green treatment, with respect to hypnosis, was described as "ridiculous" by Ald. Vincent Rush, a member of the Alberni District Arthritis Committee.

An aspect of the investigation report which said that a large percentage of the patients treated were under hypnosis, was scored by Ald. Rush who said the investigators were "silly to put out a statement of that nature."

Accidental Death In Drowning Case

CAMPBELL RIVER—A coroner's jury under Magistrate George H. Piddock, Courtenay, returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of Harold C. Haatvedt, 22, who was drowned when he fell off a log, while employed by Hanson Brothers' Logging Company at the head of Bute Inlet.

A rider was attached to the verdict recommending that logging camps be required to keep suitable life-saving equipment on hand at all times. Sole witness to the tragedy, Paul Karbe, testified that the tide swept Haatvedt out of reach after he had fallen off the log and there was nothing at hand with which to attempt a rescue.

1,000 Alberni Men To Grow Beards

PORT ALBERNI—Plans are well advanced for Alberni district to become the valley of the beards, with 1,000 residents to date signing up for the "Alberni Forty-Niners" beard competition, to run until Nov. 26, climaxing with a Klondike Night, with proceeds for erection of a new general hospital.

Mayors of the twin cities declared the competition under way, with bands and residents in temporary false beards, attracting a crowd for the opening ceremonies.

Ayrshire Club Protest To P.N.E.

DUNCAN—Directors of the Vancouver Island Ayrshire Club met here to discuss plans for winter activities and decided to protest to directors of the Pacific National Exhibition, Vancouver, against the length of time cattle had to remain at Vancouver and against the high price charged for feed.

Hay was reported to have sold at $62 a ton. The directors congratulated Dawsondale Farms, Cmdr. G. S. Windeyer and Capt. C. L. Anderson, on winning the district herd prize.

Charles Dawson, Nanose Bay; Donald Morton, Duncan and Thomas Tryon, Parksville, were asked to arrange a barn meeting at Parksville in November. A number of herds were reported ready for inspection under the herd type classification plan.

Woman Delegate Says Church Needs Help Of Men, Women

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. R. E. Wodehouse of Ottawa today told a church gathering that the recent conference of church women in Baarn, Holland, was "imbued with an ever-deepening conviction that the church will not have the fullest life nor be able to complete its task unless men and women each take their share of responsibility."

One of five delegates from the Church of England in Canada to the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam, she spoke to the 63rd annual meeting of the Dominion Board of the Anglican Church's Women's Auxiliary, of which she is president.

The board officially expressed the view that secular society is ahead of the church in the use it makes of the contribution of women. It also decided that the church must help women bear the responsibility which present world conditions place upon them.

It said this was especially so with women in industrial, business and professional life who have lost all touch with the church.

A life membership in the board was presented to Miss E. M. Harvard of Montreal, editor of The Living Message.

Shoe Designers Turn Clock Back

NEW YORK (CP)—Footwear stylists are retracing their steps this year, borrowing ideas from mother's and grandmother's day for detail on their fall and winter shoes.

At a recent showing of Frank Brothers' shoes:

Ankle-high booties ornamented with scrolls of braid or cuffs of fur.

Spats, five buttons high and edged with fur.

Low-heel ghillie boots of black suede with cuffs of black seal.

Scores of buckles, a la Pilgrim Fathers, with wide, flaring tongues to set them off.

Strictly modern were low, V-throated pumps, some of them with sunburst motifs of narrow straps that tie at the instep.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Frampton, 2572 Belmont Avenue, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Phyllis, to John Richard Mundy, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mundy of Edmonton, Alta. The wedding will take place at St. Alban's Church on Saturday, Oct. 16 at 8 p.m.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Miss Dix: Before I was married I was a secretary and earned a good salary. After I was married I worked until my baby came, then I settled down into being a housewife and mother. This was four year ago. Now my husband insists that I go back to work, although he makes a fine living.

I feel that my little boy needs me and as it isn't necessary that I work I don't feel that I should go out and hunt up a job. What do you think about this?

A MOTHER.

Answer: You are absolutely right in the position you take in the matter. As long as there are no children there is no reason why a woman should not keep on with her job after marriage if she so desires and if she and her husband consider it best. But when the babies come the whole status of the case is altered.

To be a mother is the biggest job in the world and the most important, and any woman who performs that well has done her full day's work and more, and her husband should not expect anything else from her.

Mrs. Roosevelt Calls Russia 'Ruthless'

PARIS (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt last night charged Russia with ruthless suppression of human rights at home and interference in other countries' affairs.

She urged the United Nations not to compromise with the Soviet Bloc on the issue of human freedom, which she termed the "basic problem confronting the world today."

Her address was an outspoken attack on Soviet style "democracy."

Mrs. Roosevelt is the American representative on the United Nations Human Rights Commission, whose proposed "international declaration of human rights" is due for consideration soon by the General Assembly.

Chef Writes Menus For Food Parcels

NEW YORK (CP)—Because the semi-starved people of Europe do not make the best use of food parcels, a famous Fifth Avenue chef has devised a seven-day menu to be included in parcels being sent to Germany.

German-born Herman Edel, after two weeks' research, drew up a menu which uses the contents of one food package supplemented by the frugal European rations.

The type of food package he used is being sent to Germany by Save A Friend in Europe, the food-parcel concern representing non-profit Swiss charity organization, Caritas.

SAFE food parcels are bought and packed in Denmark and flown into Germany. At present food depots are set up in Paris, London and certain cities in Austria but it is hoped to extend the service to European countries. These packages take no longer to deliver than ordinary airmail.

The food cartons contain 24 pounds, providing 45,000 calories. "Although everything seems to die a little during the summer months, there has been no let-down in the food parcels Americans have been sending," said Newton Randolph, international director of SAFE. "We expect a great increase this fall and winter."

Mayhew Says Preparation Best Way To Stop Stalin

Fisheries Minister Mayhew said here Tuesday night that there was nothing Joseph Stalin would fear more than to know that the rest of the world was prepared.

Addressing a joint meeting of the Victoria Liberal Association and the Laurier Club of Victoria in the packed auditorium at Liberal Headquarters, Mr. Mayhew said that there had been a worsening of the international situation during the past three months.

"I don't think there will be anything speak more for peace than a good sound preparation for war," he said, urging Canadians not only to increase primary but also secondary productions, building up stockpiles for time of need.

Mr. Mayhew made these remarks during a discussion period which followed his first public address in Victoria since his elevation to the federal cabinet. A member of the audience had asked whether it was the federal government's policy to work for some form of world government at this time. Mr. Mayhew said he was not in a position to answer that question but presented his remarks about the international situation as his personal feeling.

HALT LIVING COST RISE

In reply to the question "What is going to happen to the cost of living?" asked by another listener, Mr. Mayhew said:

"If you do what I suggested a little while, get out on the production line, you will bring the cost of living down."

Mr. Mayhew believed that the cost of living, barring another war, would soon tend to turn downward although he warned that in his opinion it would not go down very much immediately.

Another questioner, saying he had heard of persons in Victoria claim they had not eaten butter for more than a year because the cost was so high, asked Mr. Mayhew why the government objected to margarine.

"When Newfoundland comes into union, we'll have margarine whether we like it or not," said Mr. Mayhew. He added: "I've never feared a substitute as long as it is as good as the real thing. If it is not as good it will fade out of the picture."

Mr. Mayhew said he did not believe margarine was in the same class as butter.

The fisheries minister said he had no fears that admission of Newfoundland to the tenth province would have a detrimental effect on British Columbia's fishing industry.

"I think there will be no problem so far as we are concerned," he said. "She has her markets and own methods." He added that B.C. fishermen might well learn something from the Newfoundlanders and the Newfoundlanders from British Columbians.

FISH AS FRESH AS EGGS
Mr. Mayhew reviewed his activities since his appointment as fisheries minister and said the aim of the fisheries department was to assure Canadians as confident in the freshness of the fish they buy as in eggs.

He said that he believed the Canadian fishing industry could be developed considerably. This was not because of past policies of the department but rather because of improvement in refrigeration in railway cars, stores and homes which made it possible to send fish to parts of the nation which hitherto have had very little.

The new minister said that he had been surprised at the freedom of discussion within the federal cabinet and that it was a honor to serve there.

"I say that it is a real pleasure, real honor and real obligation," he said. "I will not take it lightly."

He said that there was no country which participated in the last war which had a lower tax rate and greater production than Canada, whose national production had increased fourfold since 1939.

To criticism that the federal government was piling up huge surpluses, Mr. Mayhew said the government, as any wise individual, should pay off its debts.

Present Indications Against Widespread Devaluation Of Money

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor
Whatever may be one's opinion on the matter of devaluation of currencies, present indications seem against any widespread steps in that direction.

Sir Stafford Cripps has stated definitely the British pound won't be devalued at this time, and the report of the World Monetary Fund says economic troubles of many countries are "too fundamental" to be solved just by devaluing their money.

A fund official, as quoted by the Wall Street Journal, points to the case of France, which devalued her franc early this year in the hope of increasing her exports.

"Actually, her exports are bringing in more dollars today than before the change," he said. "In part this has been due to the rapid inflation in France, which has wiped out much of the effect of devaluation."

PRODUCTION NEEDED

The fund's report said world recovery plans may be ruined unless inflation-plagued countries in Europe, Latin-America and Asia cut government spending and keep taxes high in order to balance their budgets. It stressed greater production and hinted that wages and profits should be held in check unless increases lead to greater production.

Sir Stafford, addressing a joint session of the fund and the World Bank, said of foreign exchange:

"Unless we can maintain a high degree of law and order in this vital field, the great efforts that are being made by many countries toward world recovery will be frustrated by the chaos and anarchy that will prevail in foreign exchange."

Security exchanges managed moderate recoveries Tuesday. Grain markets were better.

Garbage Crusher For City Success In Trial Operation

Ald. J. D. Hunter, public works committee chairman, is more optimistic than ever over the city's new garbage crusher which soon will be ready for installation at the garbage wharf.

He said today the crusher has been tried and needs a few minor adjustments.

"It is running too fast, but it smashes cans as flat as pancakes and bottles into tiny pieces," the alderman stated.

Blocks of wood and heavy unbreakable objects passed through the crusher without damaging its mechanism, he added.

The crusher was designed and is being built by the California firm of Fancher and Fancher to mangle garbage to such an extent that it will not wash onto the beaches with the tides after being dumped from barges out in the straits.

The builders are working on an agreement that if the city is not satisfied with the machine, it need not pay for the work.

Fancher and Fancher is the company removing streetcar rails from city streets at the present time.

Ald. Hunter said that structural changes to the garbage wharf will be necessary before the crusher can be installed.

Gem Uranium Ore Of Commercial Grade Mines Reports Show

Dr. J. S. Stevenson, in his completed report on radioactive mineralization in the Bridge River district, today showed that the Gem property contained the only evidence of significant radiation and that the uranium ore there was of commercial grade.

Whether or not the uranium can be separated from the ore successfully as a commercial undertaking and whether or not there is a sufficient tonnage of ore to make worthwhile the development of the property for uranium is still not known.

Mineralization of the Gem property, which was first found to be radioactive this summer by Ernest Johnson, Vancouver prospector, consists of iron, cobalt and sulpharsenide. The property was explored in 1938, 1939 and 1940 because of interest in gold and cobalt.

"The careful investigation made by Dr. Stevenson, supported by laboratory counter measurements made on 42 channels samples, indicates that the radioactive material is distributed in a decidedly erratic manner," said the mines department.

The report of Dr. Stevenson said that allowing for reasonable continuity from the exposed surfaces a total of 900 tons of ore could be classed as probable. This with about 100 tons of broken material totals about 1,000 tons of ore.

The ore averages 0.2 per cent uranium oxide or about four pounds per ton. Mineralization containing less than 0.01 per cent uranium oxide was not included in the estimates of the probable tonnage.

It is expected that further exploration in and near the present workings would expose additional mineralization similar in grade and size to the bodies already exposed.

Monthly Meetings Planned By 'Y' Groups

At a meeting of Y.M.C.A. business men's noon-hour and evening gym classes Monday night Charlie Hunt was named representative of the noon-hour group and Vassar Hall of the evening class.

Get-togethers between the two groups will be arranged once a month with each group alternating as host. Later in the season challenge basketball and volleyball games will be played between the groups.

Next Sunday's music hour will feature the appearance of Edward Vidal, world traveler and lecturer. Mr. Vidal will give an illustrated talk entitled "Around the World With a Camera." Following the lecture Mr. Vidal will give a half-hour piano recital.

No Decision Reached

Application of J. N. Findlay, president of the Victoria Riding Academy and Hunt Club, for permission to erect a horse show building and stables on Shelbourne Street, in the Mount Tolmie area, was referred to the zoning committee by the Saanich Council Tuesday night.

J. S. Taylor, building inspector, had recommended that the permit be not granted since the region is zoned for residential and farming purposes.

Two English Football Stars Stage Rebellion

By ALAN HARVEY
LONDON (CP) — Forecasts that this would be soccer's "stormiest season ever" seem to be justified. Two of the game's outstanding stars are in rebellion.

Albert Stubbs, Liverpool centre forward valued at £20,000 ($80,000), gave his club a tart ultimatum: "Release me or I'll quit the game for good."

Twenty-four hours earlier, Wilf Mannion of Middlesbrough gave up football for a salesman's job because his club wouldn't transfer him.

"I can't understand them," Mannion said. "They know I am thoroughly unhappy. . . I could never play my best for them again. 'Little did I think as a kid, when I signed on for a year, it would be virtually for life.'"

The blonde-haired Mannion is no fly-by-night footballer. He too is worth £20,000 on the open market, and has been on England's international side for 12 years. He has been with Middlesbrough since 1936, almost from the time he started on the docks as apprentice welder for 6s 4d. (about $1.25) a week.

Now Mannion says he wants a change. He'd like to play in the south and get a job on the side. But he can't play professional soccer unless Middlesbrough releases him.

JACK DETERMINED
And they won't. David Jack, Middlesbrough manager says: "If Mannion won't play for us he won't ever play League football again."

Under Football Association rules, a player who signs with a club is bound to that club unless placed on the transfer list, or released. In event of transfer, the entire fee—usually around £20,000 these days—goes to the club.

All the player gets is a maximum salary of £12 a week, plus a £2 bonus for a victory in rare cases. (The minimum salary is £5). After five consecutive seasons, a transferred player may receive a maximum bonus of £750—but payment rests with the club and is not compulsory.

A player who refuses to sign and can't get a transfer goes without payment of any kind during his period of idleness. Mannion, who has taken a job explaining scientific poultry keeping at agricultural shows, says he had to dig into his savings to get along during the hold-out period.

Cleveland Near-Cinch For Series Berth

Manager Lou Boudreau's Tribe Holds Two-Game Bulge In American

The Indians may be a vanishing race, but you couldn't tell it to the baseball world today.

Led by Manager Lou Boudreau, the Cleveland war party appears a cinch to clash with another species—Boston Braves—for the 1948 world series wampum.

Boudreau's tribe enjoys a commanding two-game lead over the runner-up Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees in the American League's pennant fight, with all contenders having only four games left to play.

The Indians gained this almost insurmountable lead last night by massacring Chicago White Sox 11 to 0 after the Red Sox and Yankees were ambushed in the afternoon, 4 to 2 and 5 to 2, respectively, by Washington Senators and Philadelphia Athletics.

The Indians can nail down their first flag since 1920 by winning three of their remaining four games. Should they divide the four games, the Red Sox or Yankees, by winning all of their four, could only tie the Indians for the pennant. The fact that two of the runner-ups remaining games are against each other lessens the possibility of one of them sweeping all four.

18TH VICTORY
Lefty Gene Bearden turned in one of the best performances of his career in blanketing the White Sox. The rookie held Chicago to four scattered singles, fanned five and walked two in hanging up his 18th victory against seven defeats.

The Indians supported Bearden's classy job with a 13-hit attack that included homers by Dale Mitchell and Allie Clark.

Rae Scarborough and Carl Scheib were the boys who put a crimp into the flag hopes of the Red Sox and Yankees.

Scarborough chilled the Sox on six hits in picking up his 14th victory for the seventh-place Senators. The Senators hammered starter—and loser—Joe Dobson for four runs in the second inning and Scarborough coasted the rest of the way.

Scheib had a more difficult time stopping the Yankees. He allowed 11 hits, but three double plays got him out of holes.

Faulkner Resigns As Secretary Of United

Charlie Faulkner, secretary of the Victoria United soccer team, has resigned and his position will be filled by Ed McKenzie, it was announced by Don McDiarmid, club president, last night.

When questioned today Faulkner would give no reason for his resignation except to say it was in the best interests of the team. Neither McDiarmid nor Roy Barnes, team manager, would divulge the reason for Faulkner's action.

McKenzie, a staunch supporter of the team, assumes his new duties immediately.

Strawberry Vale Softball Squad Guests At Banquet

Members of the Strawberry Vale Community softball team, winners of the Saanich Play-ground League championship, their parents and guests were tendered dinner at the Strawberry Vale Hall recently.

Stan Smith, league organizer, congratulated the team on its success. Councillor George Ridd, donor of the Rudd Trophy, presented the challenge cup to James Perrin, captain of the team, and said that the team's sportsmanship during the season added to its success.

Red McMillan, coach of the team, thanked the boys for their loyalty and congratulated them on their good fortune. Manager Bill Darling expressed his thanks to the Strawberry Vale and District Community Club for sponsoring the team.

Other speakers were Reg. Freemantle, manager of Playfair; W. Lightfoot, manager of Strawberry Vale School; William Buddington, manager of Qu'Appelle and Sergt. Eric Elwell of the Saanich Police.

Sergt. Elwell spoke on "juvenile pranks" and said that mischief was practically negligible during the past summer owing to the organized playground softball league. He recommended playground groups and urged parents to support the children in this phase of activity.

Ernest Crookford, magician, entertained the gathering. Mrs. R. English acted as accompanist.

Hamilton Tigers Win Ontario Boxla Title

HAMILTON (CP)—Hamilton Tigers captured their first Ontario Lacrosse Association senior championship in 15 years Monday night when they turned back Mimico Mountaineers, 12 to 10, to take the series in four straight games. It took an overtime period to decide the issue as the teams were tied 9-all at the close of regulation time.

The game was tied up on six different occasions. The goal tending served up by Mortimore for Mimico, and Favelle for Hamilton bordered on the sensational.

STRETCHING of baseball and hockey schedules is drawing protests from the players. In many of the minor ball leagues the boys are squawking over the hardships experienced by having too many engagements crowded into the season. In this case the pitchers are doing the most hollering. They want enlarged mound staffs which will relieve the pressure on the regulars and enable them to work in their proper turns. The Western International League schedule the past season was good evidence of "the hardships a jammed schedule can work on a six or seven man staff. The "red-eye league," as some of the boys termed it, was made even tougher with an unusual heavy run of successive doubleheaders.

FIRST hockey player to take exception to the National Hockey League's proposal to increase the playing schedule to 70 games is Maurice Richard, scoring star of the Montreal Canadiens. The Rocket said he was opposed to the plan as it would be "murder" for the players. He stated the present schedule was all the boys could handle and still play good hockey. He claimed that under modern rules the game is too fast for a lengthy schedule.

HOWEVER, president Clarence Campbell of the N.H.L. says the plan is basically sound from a business aspect. He said: "In common with every other enterprise today our expenses have been upped tremendously. Transportation and equipment is up 25 per cent. Players demand more because of increased living costs. The only answer is more games if the ticket price is to remain the same. Only a recession would make a 70-game schedule outlook unfeasible." One thing is certain, John Public will pay the freight.

NOTICED where At Richmond, former member of the R.A.F. soccer team at Pat Bay, played with Vancouver St. Andrews last Saturday in their match against North Shore. Remember how at the close of last season I was told Richmond, at that time living in Montreal, intended coming back to Victoria and would turn out with the United this season. Seems that soccer players, those of any standing, never get past Vancouver. Might be a good idea for United officials to figure out some way for players to by-pass the mainland city when they come west.

Brydson Winner With Eight Over Par Score

VANCOUVER (CP)—Without a par round but consistent enough to pace a field of 24 through 72 holes, Gordie Brydson, stocky, cigar-smoking shotmaker from Toronto's Mississauga Club, today held the 1948 Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship.

Brydson, standing off a determined challenge by Stan Leonard, of Vancouver's Marine Drive, carded 292, eight over par, for the 72-hole test, played over the exacting 6,400-yard Point Grey layout.

Monday, while a drenching rain beat down steadily, Brydson tied with Fred Wood, of Vancouver Shaughnessy and Ben Colk of Vancouver Langara with cards of 146 for 36 holes. Brilliant sunshine yesterday provided a welcome change and Brydson added rounds of 74-72 to gain the crown most desired by Canadian professionals after the Canadian Open title.

Wood, leading Brydson by a single stroke at the three-quarter mark with 219 against 220, faltered badly on the outgoing nine of the final round, taking a big 42 with a six and a seven on successive par four holes. He blazed home one under par with 34, for a 76, but it was too late.

THRILLING DUEL
Meanwhile, Brydson paired with Leonard, waged a thrilling stretch duel. Leonard started the last 18 holes three strokes behind Brydson. At one stage he pulled even as the Mississauga mentor went one over on three successive holes. Then Brydson rammed home a birdie three on the eighth where Leonard took a disastrous five, although Leonard romped home in 34, one under. He missed a first-place tie by a stroke when a 35-foot putt for an eagle on the home hole hung on the lip. Brydson, after that calmly sunk a four-footer for the winning edge.

Leonard's final round 70 was the only under-par round in four, and it gave him a total of 293 for second place. Wood with 295 was third. Hot players on the final round included Bob Gray, of Toronto Scarborough, whose one-under 34 on the back nine gave him a tie with Ben Colk for sixth position.

Brydson, with his victory captured top money of $350. Leonard snared $200 for the place, while Wood won an even $100. Pat Fletcher, of Saskatoon, who played consistently under the widely-varied conditions, gained fourth money, of $75 while Ernie Tate of Vancouver Fraser View, was next in line with 301, Fletcher totaled 291.

Colk and Gray, with 302, divided $80 evenly. Dave Dixon, of Red Deer, Alta., won $30, while Stan Horne of Montreal Isere, and Rodolphe Huot of Royal Quebec, both former champions, won $25 each with 305 and 306 respectively. Tied for last money were Len Harman of Knowlton, Que., and Ernie Brown of Vancouver Quilchena, with cards of 308, and they received $22.50 each.

Brydson, re-elected president of the P.G.A., his appointment to stand for two years, was presented with the Cohama trophy. He also was winner of the event in 1944.

BOWLING WIND-UP
Lake Hill Lawn Bowling Club will play the last game of the season Sunday afternoon at 2. All bowlers are welcome.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—New York Yankees, champions of the baseball world only a year ago, had little fight left today.

To a man, Bucky Harris' warriors seemed to feel that they blew the big one yesterday when they bowed to Carl Scheib, 21-year-old righthander of Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 2.

As they prepared to face Connie Mack's warriors in the second of the three-game series today, the Yanks were quiet, as if they had been brushed by a ghost.

"There isn't much to say," manager Harris intoned solemnly. "We got a couple of bad breaks yesterday. However, there are four more games to go. Maybe something good will happen."

Until late last night, Harris and his players waited up to see how Cleveland Indians made out against Chicago's White Sox. Once they saw that the Indians had won, they crept to their rooms, not looking at one another.

Actually, the Yankees are much less than the team they were a year ago.

They have slowed up amazingly. It would have been the nearest thing to a miracle if Harris had driven them to the front again.

Harris, leader of a world-champion ball club a year ago, still has not been offered a contract for 1949.

Open Eastern Boxla Finals Saturday

TORONTO (CP)—Hamilton Tigers and Cornwall open the best-of-three eastern Canada senior lacrosse final at Cornwall Oct. 2. It was announced today. They play the second game at Montreal Sunday and the third, if necessary, at Cornwall Monday.

The winner of this series between the Ontario and Quebec champions goes against Vancouver Adanacs in the best-of-five Mann Cup final for the Dominion championship, opening at Toronto Oct. 11.

Coast Baseball Squads Usher In Playoffs Tonight

Pacific Coast League baseball playoffs between first division teams get under way tonight with a pot of $35,000 at stake. Third-place Los Angeles will start righthander Dewey Adkins (17-10), in the opener at Oakland. The pennant-winning Oaks probably will start southpaw Charley Gassaway (16-8).

San Francisco's runner-up Seals figure to lead with their young righthander Con Dempsey (16-11), against Seattle's Guy Fletcher (16-16), another righty, at Seattle.

The winners of the four-out-of-seven series will clash in the final playoff for the Governor's Cup. The club winning the playoffs gets $15,000, runner-up $10,000 with $5,000 to each of the other two teams.

Jim Brillheart was released as San Diego manager yesterday, making it two P.C.L. pilot casualties in two days. Sacramento's Joe Orongo went Monday.

Brillheart succeeded a Rip Coline Aug. 3. No indication was given as to the new Padre manager.

Boudreau Jubilant, Harris Solemn, McCarthy Hopeful

CLEVELAND (AP)—"If we lose the pennant now we'll have no one to blame but ourselves," manager Lou Boudreau of Cleveland Indians said today.

That just about sums up the American League baseball race. Two up and only four games to go, the Indians can win the flag without any outside assistance, although further help from Philadelphia and Washington would be most welcome.

Two triumphs would insure the Tribe at least a tie. Three victories puts the Indians into the World Series no matter how Boston and New York fare.

"Nothing short of a major catastrophe can stop us now," Lou added. "We have four games to go against clubs that we've beaten consistently. Our team, with the exception of outfielder Wally Judnich, is in fine physical shape."

"The boys are hitting. The morale is high. There is no sign of jitters. Our pitching is in great shape. Bob Feller once again is the pitcher of old. Gene Bearden at this moment is the best left-hander in the league. Bob Lemon, our big winner, is rarin' to go."

Boudreau planned to pitch Feller today against the White Sox. This will be the last meeting between the two clubs. Detroit Tigers come to town for a three-game series starting Friday. The Indians have whipped Chicago 15 times in 21 starts this year.

BOSTON (AP)—Joe McCarthy still has hope for his fading Boston Red Sox in their day-to-day struggle to remain in the American League race.

"You never can tell about baseball," he said last night in the standard quote reserved for all managers in a similar situation.

"You go along day to day doing your best," he said, "Ellis Kinder is my next pitcher. After that we'll see. Maybe Jack Kramer, maybe somebody else. When we're two games behind with only one to play, then we'll concede, not until then. This has been a long, tough year but we made the race. Coming back after we blew all those games of it."

"You know who it's toughest on? The Yankees. I know just how it feels. You're world champions and you see that champion slipping a little more out of your fingers every game you lose. You say to yourself 'I'm just as good a manager as I was last year or the year before. Why aren't we winning? We're the champions!'"

As he finished dressing and came out of his private office into the Sox clubhouse, McCarthy spied Ted Williams. Joe walked over and slapped him on the back.

To somebody who had wondered last winter how McCarthy and Williams were going to hit it off, this scene was a revelation.

United Meets Shores On Mainland Saturday

Victoria United line-up for Saturday's Pacific Coast League soccer game at Vancouver's Callister Park against North Shore will be little changed from the one that opened the season with a 1 to 0 victory over Vancouver City here, manager Roy Barnes said today.

Chick Newman, reserve full-back for last week's match, will, however, definitely be given a chance on the mainland. Chick is 22 years of age and last year was seen in a Victoria West uniform. He will in all probability alternate with Syd Robbins at the right-back spot. Syd Robbins, another graduate of the senior ranks, played his soccer for the Legion last year. Both lads are big and strong and should team up well with Joe Robbins at the other defensive post.

Captain George Forbes will be at right half with Red McMillan or Al Boyd at centre half and Gordie Creed at left half. Creed is a newcomer this year, up from Esquimalt, while Boyd is also a former Redshirt.

Ab Travis will patrol the left flank with Bill Hope at inside while on the right wing Cedric Robb or Andy Anderson will get the starting assignment with Gordie Bell inside. Dave Huggins will be at centre forward with Joe Travis in the nets.

In their only two starts the Reds have played to two ties, one with Vancouver and the other with St. Andrews.

Saskatoon Quakers May Be Dark Horse Of Prairie Hockey

SASKATOON (CP)—Saskatoon Quakers of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League could easily be the dark horse of the 1948-49 campaign, says Bill Hunter, owner-manager of Regina Caps last year.

Hunter, now with Quakers in a business capacity, said last night the club is at least 50 per cent stronger than last year, with more additions to come.

The Quaker strength took a considerable rise yesterday with the arrival of Bob Gray, defence-man from Toronto Maple Leafs' training camp, and forwards Eddie Llei and Bob Goodacre from Chicago Black Hawks' camp. Llei and Goodacre signed Quaker contracts soon after their arrival while Gray had been on the dotted line since last spring.

The signing of Llei and Goodacre brought to 10 the actual number Quakers have on the dotted line, others being Ken McAuley, Bill Johnson, Ron Montgomery, Reg Bentley, Bob Gray, George Stevens, Les Tronngman and Keith Burgess.

Victoria Garrison Badminton Club will not start the season's play on Oct. 3, as previously announced, due to alterations being made to the Armories floor. Play will commence on Nov. 7.

B.C. Team Wins First Junior Lacrosse Title

VANCOUVER (CP)—B.C. All Stars Tuesday night brought the Canadian junior lacrosse championship to British Columbia for the first time in the 10-year history of the Minto Cup. The All Stars defeated St. Catharines 12 to 10 to take the best-of-five series, three games to two.

In the bitterly-contested series, the defending champion Athletics won the first game, dropped two straight and then tied the championship finals Monday night with a narrow victory.

The B.C. team shaded the Athletics in last night's tight affair in a similar pattern as they won the series. Trailing 6 to 3 after the first quarter, they outshot St. Kitts four goals to one in the second frame to draw even at 7 to 7, then eased into a one-goal 9 to 8 lead at the end of the third and increased their margin by one more counter in the final quarter.

GOALIE STARS

The All Stars margin of victory could have been bigger, as they outshot Athletics 27 to 14, but for the sterling net performance of St. Kitts goalie Ralph Speck.

The Vancouver squad changed its tactics in the second quarter and it was probably the turning point of the game.

"Previously they had tried to match the slow, methodical 'wait-for-a-break' style of play employed by St. Catharines. But sparked by Elmer Buchanan, the All Stars broke into a running attack and their fast-breaking plays apparently disorganized their opposition.

Top scorer for St. Catharines, and probably their outstanding player throughout the series, was Jim McNulty. He scored three goals and one assist while brother Joe slammed in a pair. Harry Whipper marked up a brace of goals and as many assists.

Top marksmen for the conquering All Stars from Vancouver and New Westminster were Les Matthews, with three goals and one assist, and Russ Buchanan with three goals.

Last night's contest was a clean game in comparison with Monday night's near-riot. There were only 18 minutes in penalties and the boys didn't once drop their gutted sticks to "mix it."

At the game's end, Lyle Barr, president of the B.C. Lacrosse Association, presented the Minto Cup, emblematic of Dominion junior lacrosse supremacy, to captain Buchanan of the All Stars.

Alouettes Flash Scoring Punch To Smother Hamilton

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Alouettes bounced back into contention in the Big Four Football League with a vengeance Tuesday night, smothering Hamilton Wildcats 36 to 6 under a sparkling aerial attack and ground offensive that kept 9,000 fans on the edge of their seats throughout.

The triumph boosted Alouettes into sole possession of third place with two victories and three losses for four points, two behind the second-spot Toronto Argos. The defeat shoved Wildcats deep into the cellar with only one win in five starts.

Ralph Toohey, Montreal's ace passing end, and passer-place-kicker Steve Nemeth were the big point scorers for the victors. Toohey gathered 10 points on two touchdowns, both on forwards from Nemeth, while Nemeth himself accounted for seven points on a placement and four converts.

Ortiz Badly Beaten In Overweight Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Manuel Ortiz, world bantamweight champion stepping far out of his own division, lost a 10-round decision unanimously Tuesday night to 21-year-old Lauro Salas of Monterey, Mexico.

Ortiz suffered two knockdowns and took a severe beating.

Ortiz of El Centro, Calif., weighed 133½, more than 15 pounds heavier than his usual fighting trim as a bantamweight.

Salas' weight was given as 128. Ortiz, who won the bantamweight championship in 1942 and apparently does not intend to defend it any more, was wagon-slow and puffy-fat around the belt line.

Cerdan Honored On Eve Of Departure

NEW YORK (AP)—Middleweight champion Marcel Cerdan received a championship belt and a lot of kind words Tuesday at a farewell luncheon with the New York Boxing Writers' Association.

Cerdan, who leaves for France this week, said he will return to the United States to defend the title he won from Tony Zale in Jersey City last week. He will not defend the championship in Europe.

Nat Fleischer, editor-publisher of the Ring Magazine, also presented belts to Zale and, by proxy, to England's Freddie Mills, recent winner of the world lightweight title.

Honor Grace Lencyk For Golf Triumphs

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Two governors took time out to honor a young girl golfer who said she was so nervous she couldn't remember her speech.

A crowd of 2,008 watched as governors Earl Warren of California and James Shannon of Connecticut presented a trophy and a crown to Grace Lencyk, 21-year-old Hartford girl who won the United States women's amateur championship two weeks ago. Earlier she had won the Canadian title at Saint John, N.B. After the governors had presented their gifts, Miss Lencyk said: "My heart is thumping so hard, I had a speech prepared. I can't remember a word."

She succeeded, however, in expressing her gratitude.

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (CP)—New York Rangers of the National Hockey League Tuesday trounced New Haven Ramblers of the American Hockey League, 10 to 1, in an exhibition game. Tony Leswick scored four times for the Rangers.

Oakland Ball Fans Give Stengel Car

OAKLAND (AP)—Oakland baseball fans presented manager Casey Stengel with a $5,000 Cadillac Tuesday night in appreciation of piloting the Oaks this year to their first Coast League pennant since 1927. Members of the championship squad were each given gold rings.

Charlton Takes Scoring Lead In Western Football

WINNIPEG (CP)—Lanky Ken Charlton leads the individual scoring parade in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Statistics compiled by the Canadian Press show the Saskatchewan Roughriders halfback with 25 points in six games. Charlton last week-end added a touchdown to his previous total of 20 points—from two touchdowns and 10 singles—to move ahead of Bob Sandberg of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, idle last week.

Sandberg, now in the runner-up spot, holds an unchanged total of 23 points on four major scores and three singles.

Harry Hood, fleet Calgary Stampeder back, moved into third position with 16 points, while two Calgary players—Paul Rowe and Woody Strode—and Saskatchewan's Gabe Patterson follow, each with 15 points.

Winnipeg's diminutive quarterback, Don Hiney, holds the next spot with 13 points, followed closely by Calgary's Keith Spith with 11 points.

The league-leading Stampeders—undefeated so far this season—continue to dominate the team scoring, with a total of 97 points for, as compared with 26 against in six games.

Tips On Golf Rules

Tip No. 15

STROKE PLAY—PLAYER KNOCKS BALL AWAY FROM HOLE

Question: In a stroke competition a player puts ball close to hole, then knocks it towards side of green where his clubs lie. Realizing he should have holed out, he replaces the ball near the hole, counts 2 penalty strokes, and holes out.

Answer: The player is disqualified. He should have played his ball from where it lay after hitting it towards his clubs and after counting this as a stroke. R. and A.

Here we have a player who, unlike the player in Tip No. 2, tried to do the right thing. If the ball had been "lifted" it would have been out of play and could have been replaced under penalty of 2 strokes. In Tip No. 29 we read: The word "lifted" should not receive too literal an interpretation. The ball was knocked away from the line of a fellow-competitor's putt and was out of play until replaced. But according to the R. and A. Decision the ball knocked away from the lip of the hole was not out of play.

In searching for a ball, if a player or his caddy move it, the penalty is one stroke in match or medal play.

HOLE IN ONE

B. H. Anderson became a member of the hole-in-one-club at the Uplands when his tee shot on the 16th hole rolled into the cup. He was playing with R. Gardom and H. Hartshorne.

Saskatchewan Riders Hard Luck Grid Squad

REGINA (CP)—Don't try to tell a Saskatchewan football fan about the close game back in 1922. He's seen too many of them this year.

And most of them in the Western Canada Senior Football League went against his beloved Saskatchewan Roughriders—considered by many the most threatening team that ever decorated the basement of the league.

It could have been an omen when Ruffies opened their season with an exhibition tilt against Toronto's Beaches Indians. The easterners edged Riders 1 to 0 by booting the single point on the last play.

Riders' bounded back with a smashing 17 to 6 triumph over the defending western champions, Winnipeg Blue Bombers, to open the league in style. That was the last game they won. They've lost their last six.

One was a clearcut 12 to 1 trouncing from the burly Calgary Stampeders, undefeated this season. But of the other five two were lost by one-point margins, one by a three-point margin and two by converted touchdowns that wiped out Rider leads.

The point is, to the tearful Regina fan, the league doormats led in every one of the six lost games at one time—in five of them by a margin which seemed to ensure victory. Most of the games were lost by spectacular opposition four-quarter drives.

REAL TEAR JERKERS

Between sobs, John Phan hereabouts illustrates his point with a Rider-Bomber contest that culminated in Riders blowing a 13 to 5 lead in the fourth quarter to lose 16 to 13. Or another Winnipeg-Regina game when Riders piled up an early 7 to 0 lead and lost 14 to 13 on a desperation-driven field goal. Then at Winnipeg, Riders blew a 9 to 0 second-quarter lead and lost 15 to 9.

Last Saturday's fiasco at Calgary where the Ruffians lost out 13 to 12 on two converted fourth-quarter touchdowns to Stampeders left Saskatchewan's supporters stunned. Riders had led 12 to 1 at the end of the third quarter.

But the team continues to pack in the fans who still figure Riders may stop losing in the remaining five games of their gruelling 12-game western conference schedule.

Youth Held After Golf Club Robbery

Oak Bay police are holding a juvenile today in connection with the theft of 16 golf clubs and eight dozen golf balls from the pro shop at the Victoria Golf Club Tuesday night.

The clubs and balls were recovered in an automobile, but police report there may have been more taken.

Chief Hugh Reston states that entry was gained by removing a door panel with a bit and brace. An entry and an attempted entry in the city last week-end were carried out in the same manner, leading police to believe the same culprits may be responsible.

Further details were not made available, since the investigation is still being carried out.

Lions' Carnival Called Off After Police Warning

Directors of the Victoria Lions Club, at an emergency meeting Tuesday night, canceled plans for holding their Fall Carnival after receipt of a warning from Police Chief John A. McLellan that if bingo and other games of chance were to be played his department would have to take action to close the affair.

The carnival was scheduled to open tomorrow night in the Bay Street Armories. It was to have continued for three consecutive nights.

Chief McLellan said this morning the club had openly advertised its "intention of featuring a giant bingo game and other games of chance which, in the eyes of the law, are straight gambling games."

Club officials say the chief's warning came too late for the club to do anything else but cancel the whole affair. They had hoped to raise $6,000 or more in this venture, and were planning to use the money for charitable purposes.

Members of the club have been working on the carnival project for the past six months, directors said. Game equipment from eastern Canada had been shipped here for use at the affair.

The bingo game planned for the carnival was to have seated 500 persons a game. The club had amassed a considerable quantity of merchandise to be given away as prizes, including a combination radio-phonograph and a silver tea service.

Collectors Warned No Special Service On New Stamps At P.O.

Notice that no special service can be given at the Victoria Post Office stamp wickets to stamp collectors, in connection with the forthcoming issue Friday of a four-cent stamp commemorating the 100th anniversary of Responsible Government in Canada, was given today by John B. Sinclair, postmaster.

"It has been found in the past, that by giving special consideration to collectors at the public wickets, delay is occasioned to many who wish to purchase stamps for ordinary use as postage on mail matter," said Mr. Sinclair.

He added that those who may desire special service on the matter, particularly in the case of wishing special blocks and plate numbers, should forward orders to the Philatelic Section, Postage Stamp Division, Ottawa, Ont.

Petition Circulates For Higher Pension For Aged Citizens

Circulation has started today of a petition requesting the Federal government to increase the old age pension from $30 to $50 per month for every citizen of 65 years and over.

The public will be asked to sign the petition which has been prepared and endorsed by the Old Age Pensioners' Organization Inc. The petition will be submitted at the next session of the House of Commons.

Members of the Federal government are asked in the petition to "give their fullest consideration at the earliest possible moment to the grievous suffering of these pioneer citizens."

A basis pension of $50 per month is requested in the petition and the elimination of the Means Test, so that "old people can enjoy a decent standard of existence."

It is pointed out in the petition that pensioners have been unable to make ends meet owing to the increased cost of living.

"Many of these aged citizens are handicapped by the loss of hearing and unable to meet the unreasonable prices of hearing aids," the petition states. "Be it recommended that the Minister of Welfare be requested to provide aid to all Old Age Pensioners in need of assistance."

The petition also points out that the amount of $30 per month, set as the basic pension in Bill 329 passed by the Federal government in 1947, has proved to be inadequate for pensioners due to the cost of rent, fuel, clothing and many other necessities of life.

Murray Remains President Of Spencer's Remnants

At the annual general meeting of Spencer's Remnants of Victoria, held in Spencer's dining-room Monday, the following officers were elected for the coming season: Commandant, Miss Sara Spencer, M.B.E.; honorary colonel, Col. R. Ross Napier, V.D.; honorary padre, Rev. George Biddle; honorary auditor, A. Leith; president, D. M. A. Murray; first vice-president, M. A. Kroeger; second vice-president, J. Reside; secretary, H. Roberts; treasurer, J. Hunter; assistant secretary, Miss K. Holmes; assistant treasurer, Miss S. Leask; advisory council, T. Ross, M.B.E., E.D., W. C. Thomson and J. Roberts.

The president, in his report, stressed the value of an organization, such as the Remnants, within the sphere of the store and of the community. Its ideals of service, proficiency and loyalty had been amply demonstrated during their service in the forces and the furtherance of these same ideals in civilian life, would help to recreate the comradeship and co-operation, so evident in the services.

The secretary-treasurer reported a very successful year, with a substantial increase in membership and satisfactory state of finances.

Plans were laid to continue the Remnants' community work, especially in the building and equipping of children's playgrounds. They will also continue support of the Pamela Newton Fund.

Sailor Remanded

Alan G. Bennett, naval rating, pleaded not guilty to a charge of taking an automobile without the owner's consent at a special sitting of the Esquimalt police court this morning.

He was remanded until Monday.

Police said that W. E. Acreman, 1331 Esquimalt Road, reported his car had been taken from in front of his home at about 11:30 Tuesday night.

All police cars in the Victoria area were notified, and at 1:15 Wednesday morning Sergeant Thomas Stevenson and Const. James Baxter sighted the vehicle being driven west on Yates Street by Bennett.

He was held in custody following his arrest.

Pleads Not Guilty On Driving Charge

Elmer A. Ferguson, naval rating, pleaded not guilty in city police court today to a charge of dangerous driving and was remanded for hearing until Monday.

Police say Ferguson was driver of a car which hit the curb near the intersection of Johnson Street and Tyee Road at 11:40 Tuesday night and turned over on its side.

Louise Armour, Portland Hotel, a passenger, was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital by police with bruises to her knees and head.

Three other sailors in the car were apparently uninjured. Ferguson was released to the custody of a superior officer.

Secretary Reports Veterans Forced Out By High Payments

Some veterans are losing their homes and are drifting back to shelters provided by the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council because of their inability to keep up payments on their homes, A. Palmer, executive secretary, said today.

High rents are also forcing some veterans out of apartments and small homes, Mr. Palmer said. Many of these are Victoria-born citizens.

According to statistics, he said the average man is earning about $150 a month. He said out of this a man cannot afford to pay more than $25 in rent.

Some veterans who bought homes at the end of the war were finding out that they cannot keep up paying their mortgages, Mr. Palmer said. Some of these payments with interest are as high as $60 and $65 a month.

He also said some veterans who had financed the building of homes were now finding out they did not have enough money for upkeep and were turning to the rehabilitation council for assistance.

"In one day we had five veterans asking us to find them accommodation in one of our camps," he said. "Some of them had not lived more than a week in their newly constructed homes. They just couldn't make ends meet."

Victorian Acting In British Films

Maj. L. Bullock-Webster, well-known in dramatic circles in Victoria and who now resides in England, has written a letter to Miss Kathleen Agnew informing her that he is taking small parts in British films.

Maj. Bullock-Webster said he will be taking the part of the colonel in one scene of "Elizabeth of Lady Mead." He also said to took the part of the major-general in the "Guinea Pig."

"I am only in little parts," he writes, "but I'm lucky to get into pictures at all at my age."

Esquimalt Community Club will meet Monday at 8 in the club hall, Sturdee Street. Members are requested to return their anniversary calendars.

Condition Of Injured Boy Said To Be Fair

Condition of Brian Page, 3540 Savannah Avenue, injured when the bicycle he was riding on Gorge Road at 4:45 Tuesday afternoon collided with a truck, was described as "fairly good" by officials at Royal Jubilee Hospital today.

Police report the eight-year-old youth turned suddenly to the left while cycling east on Gorge Road near Viaduct and collided with the right windshield of a truck driven by Hugh Shirley, 829 Violet Avenue.

Suggests Citizens' Committee Campaign For Arena Money

Another campaign for funds through public subscription to complete construction of the Memorial Arena is suggested to Mayor Percy George in a letter received today from a taxpayer.

J. W. Alton, 3026 Fifth Street, says it would be worth while for the city to explore the possibility of the Citizens' Committee which raised $65,000 to start arena construction "going out and repeating the same."

OWES SERVICE

Mr. Alton states: "That group owes some further service to the community."

Meanwhile he places the blame for the lack of funds to finish the arena, which he described as "this deplorable fiasco," on the shoulders of the mayor and those aldermen who favored and started the project as a civic undertaking.

Charge Dismissed

In city police court today, Magistrate H. C. Hall dismissed a charge against H. Fournes Hirst, Victoria, of acting contrary to the Notary Public Act.

Mr. Hirst was said to have drawn up a document regarding property in Oak Bay last May. George H. Gregory, appearing for the Crown, had contested the transaction.

"I can see nothing fraudulent or improper in the case, and it is therefore dismissed," said the magistrate.

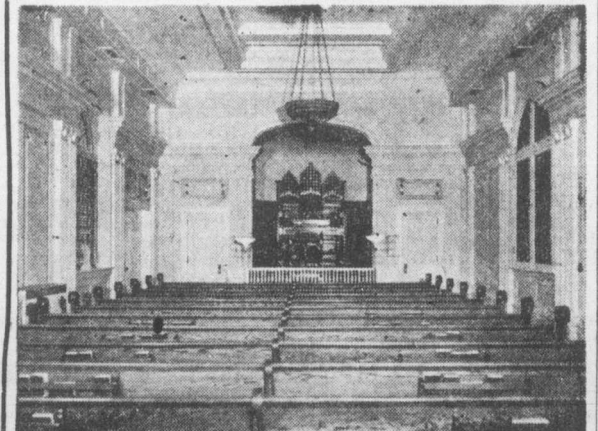

Joseph McKenna appeared for the defendant.

Survivor Of Attempt To Reach North Pole By Dirigible Dies

OTTAWA (CP)—Maxwell J. Smith, 68, radio pioneer and survivor of an ill-fated attempt to reach the North Pole by dirigible, died Tuesday after a two-day illness.

Mr. Smith, a native of Truro, N.S., often recalled his start in radio was on the bottom rung; "just an ordinary key-tapper," he'd tell friends.

His first task in the far north was with a group of United States engineers who set up U.S. government experimental radio stations in Alaska in 1904. He worked that year at Tolovana after a 700-mile trip by dog sled across the desolate, snowbound mountains lining the Gulf of Alaska.

In 1906, after working in the United States as an operator of the first Trans-Atlantic wireless stations, he joined the Wellman expedition as radio man.

The expedition, headed by Walter Wellman, Washington correspondent for the old Chicago Record-Herald, planned to reach the North Pole by dirigible. Headquarters, "Wellman House," was set up at King's Bay on the bleak Arctic coast of Spitsbergen.

The dirigible, named America, was assembled there, but it was dogged by disaster. After a lengthy delay due to bad weather, the airship took off on the long hop to the pole. Seventy-five miles out of King's Bay a motor conked out and the dirigible crashed. Mr. Smith escaped injury.

Dogs and sleds were taken from the wreckage and the expedition returned to King's Bay after 11 days of wandering across ice-capped Spitsbergen. The expedition was abandoned and Wellman and his party sailed for Paris.

Surviving Mr. Wells are his wife; a son, a daughter, Mrs. Frank O'Hara, Saskatoon, and three sisters, Mrs. Harvey Fox, Duncan, B.C.; Mrs. Leonard Richards, Kelowna, and Mrs. William Middleton, Vernon.

Unionists Score Bird's Criticism Of B.C. Labor Code

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia trade union leaders have charged changes in the Industrial Conciliation Act recommended by Mr. Justice H. I. Bird, chairman of a recent conciliation board, were attempts "to add more shackles to organized labor in the interests of big business."

Reporting on recent conciliation board hearings of an International Workers of America (C.C.L.-C.I.O.) labor dispute, Mr. Justice Bird made three recommendations:

1. The Labor Relations Board should choose conciliation board members.
2. The chairman alone should rule on admissibility of evidence.
3. Retroactivity of wage settlements should be barred.

"If conciliation boards were hand-picked," said Birt Shovler, president of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.), "it would be a complete negation of all democratic principles."

Bill Mahoney, western director of the C.C.L., said "the proposals show, to say the least, a very lamentable lack of understanding of labor relations."

"His proposals are ridiculous," charged Harvey Murphy, president of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union.

"They boil down to compulsory arbitration, and the establishment of labor courts to settle wages. Maybe he doesn't want trade unions at all."

Harold Pritchett, I.W.A. official, accused the judge of wanting to add more shackles to organized labor.

Induction ceremonies were conducted by Bill Miller, vice-president, and the new members are Ian Duncan, John Price, Robert Cumberbirch, Norman Ingledew, Herbert Woodhead, Frank Rowbotham, Robert Johnson, Henry Mathews and Lawrence Chaney.

After W. H. Currie had given a speechcraft talk on the subject, "Learn By Doing," the new members took over the program. Critics of their talks were Leo Pears and Jim Wilson.

Mr. Rowbottom recently returned from England, where with a group of leading B.C. business men he visited the main industrial centres and manufacturers.

Legion To Study Arthritis Report

The recent Provincial government report concerning the treatment given arthritis sufferers by Lou Green of Port Alberni, is being studied by a committee of the Esquimalt Branch, Canadian Legion, and will be brought up for discussion at the branch's next regular meeting, it was learned Tuesday night.

An officer of the Esquimalt Branch, which let its quarters be used by the Port Alberni man to address Victoria arthritis sufferers, said he considered the government's report disappointing. He said the report made no mention of some crippled persons who had been able to get around by themselves after having been treated by Green. And he said there was nothing in the report regarding local residents who benefited from their meeting with the up-island man when he was here.

LONDON (Reuter) — Frank Cellier, 64, one of Britain's leading actors, died Monday.

He had been in poor health since he was forced to leave the cast of Terence Rattigan's "The Winslow Boy," shortly before the play was taken to the United States last year.

He was once known in stage circles as "the snappiest murderer" because he had committed every type of murder on the stage. His own favorite part was Hamlet.

U.S., Canada Must Rule On Aid for Europe Defence

WASHINGTON (CP)—Swiftly-marching events at home and abroad have pointed more clearly to the approaching moment when Canada and the United States will have to decide how and in what measure they may help strengthen the western European alliance for a possible defensive war.

This week has seen the spokesmen for Britain, the United States and France sternly warn Russia in the United Nations Assembly in Paris that her foreign policy threatens world peace and today notes presented to the United Nations' Security Council by Britain, the U.S. and France charged that Russia is menacing world peace with her Berlin blockade.

COMBINE STAFFS

Tuesday, the five-power western alliance, meeting in Paris, started organization of combined land, sea and air commands and was reported to have on its agenda consideration of material aid, short of immediate participation, that could be expected from Canada and the United States.

At this moment there are in Washington the finance ministers and top financial advisers from 47 countries, here for the annual meeting of the governors of the International Fund and World Bank.

It is common knowledge that they are deeply concerned—those who are in the western alliance and the proposed North Atlantic security system—in the methods by which weakened European democracies may be strengthened to meet the emergency if Russia forces a conflict.

Canada's finance minister, Douglas Abbott, told a press conference here Tuesday that Canada had been a heavy supplier of war materials and could be again. But he did not pursue the subject.

Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, who was in Ottawa for a week before coming here for the routine meeting of the fund and bank, was questioned on this matter at a press luncheon Tuesday.

WOULD NOT DISCUSS

He was asked if he believed lease-lend would have to be revived and he said that was something he would not talk about publicly.

Canada has a special team here with Abbott for talks with the economic affairs co-operation administration under Paul Hoffman. Abbott will have a private luncheon meeting with Hoffman tomorrow.

The E.C.A. was set up to help the economic recovery of European countries and thus, possibly, save them from falling under totalitarian influence dictated by the Soviet Union.

It could be quickly transformed into a lend-lease mechanism if Congress approved. There has been speculation that a new Republican congress and administration, if they come as a result of the November elections, might scrap even the Economic Recovery Plan.

Charges Swan Lake Flooding Question Evaded By Council

Alexander Kilpatrick, Lancaster Road, secretary-treasurer of Ward Four Ratepayers' Association, told members of the Saanich Council in no uncertain terms Tuesday night that he thought they had been evading the issue in the matter of aiding farmers to relieve flood conditions in the Swan Lake area.

Mr. Kilpatrick, heading a delegation of farmers at the meeting, said that the drainage ditch which meanders from Swan Lake to Colquitz River was so restricted by debris and silt that large portions of land around the lake were flooded so much that crops could not be put in.

ANIMALS, STOVES

"We have fished everything from dead animals in sacks to stoves and old tires out of the drainage ditch," he told the council.

He added that the culvert where the ditch passes under Douglas Street was silted up, and that nothing had been done about it for some years.

Council then heard H. D. Dawson, municipal engineer, report on a proposed deepening of the ditch for about a mile. Cost of this was estimated at $2,832, with 31 affected property owners to be assessed to cover the expense. The proposal was not voted upon.

The matter was finally settled when $100 was allocated for the clearing of about 500 feet of the ditch which is on municipally-owned land and for clearing of the culvert.

Farmers, who have been working on the drainage stream by themselves, indicated that they would continue to do their share on their own property.

REFUSE PERMISSION

Saanich Council Tuesday night refused an application of Mrs. A. G. Vogel, managing director of the Kingsway Nursing and Rest Home, Burnaby, for permission to use the property known as "Clovelly," 1196 Clovelly Terrace, as a nursing and rest home.

The premises are currently used as a guest house.

Wants Compulsory Training To Defend Canada's Northland

Brig. John M. Rockingham, back from an Alaska Highway tour, in Victoria Tuesday described Canada's northland as a territory in need of protection and urged an immediate start of compulsory military training in the Dominion.

Brig. Rockingham was one of two speakers who addressed local clubs Tuesday on return from the north. He addressed the Kiwanis Club, while Maj. H. S. C. Archbold, Canadian Scottish Regiment, who was also on the tour, addressed the Victoria Electric Club.

Brig. Rockingham, in speaking of the vast northlands and the Alaska Highway, said the protection needed in the north was more than could be given at present.

While not using the word "war," he suggested to the Kiwanians that if it does come it would come suddenly, perhaps a matter of two or three days, and not like the last time where there were two or three years to prepare.

Outlining the history of the Alaska Highway, he said its economic value was practically nil but that it had a great military value.

Maj. Archbold, in his address, advocated a trip on the highway but warned it would cost

Refusal To Disavow Communism Bars Unions From A-Bomb Plants

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States government today barred its A-bomb plants to unions whose officers refuse to disavow communism.

This action, on the heels of congressional charges that a network of Soviet spy rings in the United States tried during the war to feed atomic secrets to Moscow, stemmed from a double-barreled atomic energy commission order.

It posted "keep out" signs for two specific C.I.O. unions and opened the way for official recognition of others only if they can qualify for certification by the National Labor Relations Board.

Except at Oak Ridge, union activity in all atomic plants has been sharply curtailed since the A-bomb project was launched.

The C.I.O. unions singled out in the commission announcement are the United Electrical Workers and the United Public Workers.

A congressional committee heard testimony only Tuesday from a self-described former Communist that the U.E. is "the largest Communist-dominated organization in the United States."

anywhere from $800 to $1,000 to make. He said the Canadian army, which has taken over the Canadian section of the highway, has been doing very well in maintaining it in view of financial restrictions.

The commission's move was one in a series of tumbling developments bearing on the issue of Reds-in-government. Among them:

1. Disclosure by William R. Remington that he had appealed a regional loyalty board's ruling of "reasonable grounds to believe" he was disloyal.

Remington is the suspended $10,000-a-year commerce department official named by Elizabeth T. Bentley as a source of the wartime secrets she told of collecting while serving as a spy ring messenger.

Remington announced he had asked the President's loyalty review board to let him confront Miss Bentley and cross-examine her.

CHARGE BY TRUMAN

2. A campaign speech charge by President Truman that "the Republicans have impeded and made more difficult our efforts to cope with communism in this country."

Truman contended the Republicans have tried to "usurp" the functions of federal grand juries and the courts. He said they have impaired the atomic program by "intemperate and unjustified attacks" on scientists, without producing "any significant information about Communist espionage which the F.B.I. did not already have."

3. A retort from Senator

Homer Ferguson (Rep.-Mich.) that Truman's remarks were "utterly ridiculous." Ferguson said the Republicans have been leading the fight against communism.

When a home is broken...

who picks up the pieces?

Who STEPS IN when Dad walks out—or an am-balance comes for Mother?

Who puts comforting arms around small scared shoulders? Who puts milk and eggs in hungry mouths and new hope and courage in hungry young hearts?

Who? You know—YOU!

YOU—shocked by the mounting divorce rate, as high as one in every three marriages in a recent year. YOU—heart-sick from the sorry fact that children of homes broken by death or divorce are most likely to become juvenile delinquents. You—by your gift, your generous gift, to our Community Chest.

What does it buy—for broken homes? Family counseling services that help prevent divorce and desertion. Y's and Scouts and camps and sound, constructive activities for growing children. Clinics, visiting nurses, care for the aged and handicapped, a well-rounded group of services that help to keep the family sound, the community strong.

There are broken homes—too many broken homes—right here in town right now. Who'll pick up the pieces? YOU!

Give more than you planned—won't you?—when your neighbor comes around for the Community Chest.

'Beyond Glory' Opens At Capitol

"Beyond Glory," which opened today at the Capitol Theatre, pits Alan Ladd against the toughest adversary of his battle-filled screen career—himself.

Paramount's unusual romantic drama, co-starring Ladd with Donna Reed, casts the two-fisted actor as a self-accused murderer in love with the widow of his "victim." It grippingly depicts the raging inner conflict which drives him into exile from the rest of the world until he relives three terrifying minutes out of his past.

Ladd plays a veteran who comes out of the war bedecked with medals, but obsessed with the idea that he was responsible for his captain's death.

Saltwater mullet, a relatively large edible fish, is being used to stock freshwater farm ponds; small mullet are seined out of the sea and placed in brackish water which is gradually allowed to become fresh.

Living Bonus Set For Retired Pastors Of United Church

VANCOUVER (CP)—The 13th General Council late Tuesday adopted a cost-of-living bonus totaling $235,000 for retired United Church ministers and widows.

Effective as soon as it can be implemented, the bonus will give an additional $150 to a retired minister and his wife, $100 to a single minister, $100 to a widow and $50 for each child, per year. A three-fold proposal calling for new objectives in the church's pension fund administration was accepted in principle and referred to the executive for detailed consideration. The plan suggested retirement at 65 or after 40 years of service, a pension payment of $25 for each year of service and a mortality benefit of $500.

Arguing against immediate implementation of the new proposals, Mr. Justice Harold Thompson, Regina, said "it will take $21,000,000 to keep the pres-

To Investigate Gun-Carrying Cases

Two cases of youths being charged with carrying unregistered revolvers were remanded for hearing in city police court today to permit the probation officer to make an investigation.

Robert Gordon Smalley, formerly of New Westminster, who had previously elected preliminary hearing, changed his plea and will be heard before Magistrate H. C. Hall on Friday.

William Smith, Friday, was dealt with in a similar manner. Const. Brian Ferguson of the city police force told the magistrate that he saw Smalley run down a Chinatown alley Saturday night, drop a revolver, pick it up and run away.

The constable later arrested Smalley in a hotel room. Also found in the room were a fully-loaded revolver and a box containing 15 bullets.

Woman Fined

Eileen Macaulay, Royal Oak, was fined $35 and prohibited from driving for one month when she pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of dangerous driving. The charge arose following an accident at 8 Saturday evening when a car driven by Miss Macaulay side-swiped an auto parked on Quadra Street between Kings Road and Bay Street, then failed to return to the scene. Total damage to the cars was about $125.

Rails, Oils Lead Slow Recovery

NEW YORK (AP)—A slow recovery took the stock market into higher ground today in re-straining trading.

Rails and oils again led as they did yesterday, with steels and motors following along. The rubber group advanced but with only moderate activity. Utilities and airlines remained mixed.

The pace of trading quickened on the brief intermediate rallies and slowed when prices were cut by small fractions.

Rails gained fractions to around a point.

Canadian issues were higher.

Dow Jones closing averages:

30 index, 179.04, up 1.50

20 rails, 58.55, up .38

15 utilities, 34.36, up .30

65 stocks, 66.80, up .33

Total sales 810,000.

Base Metals Brightest Spot

TORONTO (CP)—All groups strengthened as trading slowed to a crawl on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrials edged ahead steadily on fractional gains and base metals continued the brightest spot on the board with some strong advances. Golds were quiet and firmer and the handful of western oils trading advanced.

Papers led the mild recovery in the industrial groupings and liquors and refining oils followed suit with fractional advances. Canadian Vickers preferred shone in a firmer steel list and utilities mixed gains and losses.

20 golds, 87.79, up .22

10 base metals, 99.35, up .82

15 west. oils, 39.36, up .60
